TOP REDS FINED, GO TO PRISON

Mine Owners Disgusted, Walk Out

Operators Halt Parley

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va.—(UP)—Operators of the big Northern and Western soft coal miles today broke off negotiations with the United Mine Workers.

George H. Love, chief spokesman for the operators group, declared:

"In his mad race for power John L. Lewis is impoverishing our employes and is willing to destroy the coal industry. Therefore we are leaving this conference."

The operators' spokesman charged that the United Mine Workers' chief has refused to negotiate in good faith. Love pointed out that Lewis has failed to attend the final three meetings.

'FLAUNTS POWER'

"Mr. Lewis has shown his utter disregard for our employes by forcing them to lose 60 days work so far this year while he flaunts his power to dictate when and how many days if any the mines will work in this country," Love said.

The operators' action dashed all hopes of ending the 32-day strike of 380,000 coal miners without government interventions. Only yesterday President Truman had said that he still hoped both the crippling coal and steel strikes could be settled by mediation and negotiation.

Love placed the blame for the deadlock over the UMW's wage-pension demands directly on Lewis. He said:

"He has disdainfully absented himself from this conference, only being present eight days since the first of July. Two weeks ago the government mediation service asked us to reconvent these meetings. And in those two weeks he had only been in attendance for about two hours and rarely spoke when present."

Love said the northern and western operators, who produce more than two-thirds of the nation's soft coal, had "made their best and final offer."

VIOLENCE CONTINUES

This was a proposal to continue the last wage agreement with the UMW with the clause requiring miners to work only when "willing and able" deleted.

★

The parley was the latest in a long series aimed at ending the five-week long strike.

Continued violence by marauding groups of men in areas where non-union mines continued operations had lent urgency to negotiations.

Mine tipples have been blown up, trucks stoned, and coal dumped on highways after it had been mined from non-union mines.

Steel Talks Bear Fruit, Ching Hints

Nation Feels Strike 'Pinch'

NEW YORK — (INS) — Reports that a face-saving formula has been developed by federal mediators cast a faint ray of hope today over the costly nation-wide steel strike.

With more and more steel-dependent industries showing the effects of the crippling walkout, Federal Mediator Cyrus S. Ching said yesterday that the situation was "certainly not hopeless."

It was understood that Ching had reference to a new compromise plan for resolving the pension and insurance dispute between the nation's steel producers and the striking CIO-United Steel workers. Details of the plan, it was said, are being kept secret so as not to prejudice future negotiations.

In the other major national strike — coal — the picture was far less promising. Industry spokesmen said that the current meetings between soft coal operators and the John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers are "only fooling the public."

There wae a strong indication that the operators' next move will be an open appeal for government intervention.

Between them, the tie-ups in basic metal and basic fuel are causing a creeping paralysis in diverse industries. Railroads, automobiles, home appliances and building construction are feeling the pinch every day that the walkouts continue.

President Truman yesterday reiterated that he has no intention of seizing the strike-bound pits or steel plants.

Ching and his aides conferred in New York again today with executives of the U. S. Steel corporation, pace-setters for the industry.

Shaw Spurns Invitation, He's Too Old

LONDON — (AP) — England's most famous Irishman, George Bernard Shaw, confessed today he's too old to dance a Scottish reel.

Just "let me alone," the aging playwright wrote to the Clan Chattan association, which invited him to a Scottish dinner dance on Nov. 11.

Shaw, a member of the association, sent the sponsors this postcard in typical tart style:

"Please note that I am in my 94th year and stop bothering and mocking me with ridiculous invitations to dance Scottish reels and the like. Dine and dance as much as you like, but let me alone. — G.B.S."

Tighten Belts

LONDON — (UP) — The cabinet gave final approval today to a drastic new belt-tightening program reported to call for a slash of about $1,000,000,000 in spending for food, gasoline and public works.

Warm Spell To Hang On

Mansfielders were told today they could continue to expect weather which is much too warm for the season, but as the weatherman put it, "Who's complaining?"

The weatherman added that excessively warm temperatures continue to dominate Ohio's weather, and probably will for the next 24 to 36 hours.

Yesterday was another Indian summer day in Mansfield as the temperature rose to a high of 74 at 3 p. m., and only the falling leaves indicated the month was October and not June. Scattered showers brought .15 of an inch of rain in the 24 hours ending at 7:30 a. m. today.

It was the same story all over the state as no point recorded a temperature lower than 50 last night and Chesapeake had a reading as high as 81.

The forecast is for considerable cloudiness and mild weather today with scattered showers Saturday and in the west and north portions today and tonight. Sunday there will be considerable cloudiness with scattered showers likely. It will be cooler Sunday, warmer Tuesday and Wednesday.

BULLETIN

Halt Inquiry

WASHINGTON —(INS)— Defense Secretary Johnson charged today that navy critics of his unification policies have "misinformed" congress about the nation's state of preparedness and have built a "straw man" which would be "amusing, if it were not so tragic."

PEP CARAVAN ON MOVE—The big pep caravan which escorted the Mansfield Senior high football team this morning moves into downtown Mansfield. Leading the procession is a fire department "cruiser" while the bus carrying the Tyger footballers is next in line. A number of the 75 cars which comprised the caravan string out behind the bus on Park avenue west. The Mansfield football team is scheduled to meet Washington high in Massillon tonight.

Fund Up To $58,023

$6,498 Added Since Yesterday

Mansfield's 1949 Community Chest drive today entered its fifth day still marking steady gains toward the goal of $141,663, which officials of the drive hope to attain by next Thursday.

Toay's total stood at $58,023, a gain of $6,498 over yesterday's top figure, as several industries reported 100 per cent returns on their solicitations.

The Small Industries division, headed by James Clark and William Flinn, reported Hoff Manufacturing turned in its quota of $150; Mansfield Brass and Aluminum company reported reaching quota of $200, and Mansfield Metal Vault turned in its quota of $322.

Two teams in the public employes division reported over the quota solicitations today. They are Team 3, comprising the teachers at John Simpson Junior high school, whose captain, Principal H. J. Dotson reported $204 turned in on their quota of $180. Another school, Woodland elementary, reported to Principal C. A. Divelbiss, captain of Team 15, it had subscribed $46 on a $37 quota.

The Public Employes division, headed by John Dalton and W. L. Miller, reported today it had collected over a third of the quota, $2,953, by turning in $1,034.

Today's figures revealed that the Stars, headed by Robert Salsbury, has turned in a total of $24,972, while the Feathers division, headed by Orlo Smith, has reported $33,051.

GI Wife Held After Slaying

FRANKFURT, Germany — (AP) — District Attorney Fred Johnson said the attractive widow of a young U. S. Air Force lieutenant would be charged today with murder in the fatal shooting of her husband following a gay party.

The widow, Mrs. Yvette Madsen, 22, was scheduled to be arraigned this afternoon. She now is in a hospital where she has been treated for shock.

Her husband, first Lt. Andrew E. Madsen, about 26, was shot by a .45 caliber bullet as he crossed the threshold of their living room.

Cheers Sound As Players Depart

Tygers Head For Big Battle At Massillon

By FRED THARP
(N-J Sports Editor)

With the cheers of students and townspeople ringing in their ears, the Mansfield Senior high school Tygers took to the highways this morning for their "game of the year" with Massillon Washington high.

The contest is scheduled for 8 p. m. in the Massillon stadium. Massillon won the state crown last year and is a top-heavy choice. The Mansfield youngsters are rated only a few notches behind the Tigers and are primed for an upset following an endless succession of pep rallies this week.

A 75-car automobile caravan escorted the Tyger footballers from school, through the downtown district and out Route 30 this morning with horns blowing, bells ringing and the chant "beat Massillon" echoing everywhere. Well over 1,000 Senior high fans lined the streets lending their vocal support to the gridders who left by special bus.

The police and fire departments and cheerleaders led the caravan.

An orderly but vociferous pep assembly this morning at the high school launched the team on its trip. The students then thronged out of the gymnasium and boarded automobiles, trucks and motor bikes to follow their favorites out of town.

Last night, the band and student body joined in a giant yell-session at Central park. The team was honored at the rally after leaving their regular Thursday night movie party at the Ohio theater.

CLASSES NORMAL

Classes had returned to normal at noon today and Senior High Principal Glenn G. Rohleder, said that youngsters would be allowed to leave school a half-hour early today to make the trip to Massillon. "It's a reward for the orderly pep assembly this morning," he said.

However, all was not so orderly last night when several car-

Tax Boost Under Fire

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Capitol hill fired back at President Truman's talk of a tax increase today with counter proposals to slash government spending instead.

Another popular suggestion on how to make the government's ends meet was:

By tax adjustments and other incentives, encourage a billowing industrial and business economy with sights set on a $300,000,000,000 national income. That it is figured, would yield adequate revenue — without hikes in tax rates — to support federal, state and local governments. National income now is at the rate of about $217,000,000,000.

House Republican Leader Martin, of Massachusetts, issued a statement saying the President wants more taxes to put "his socialist schemes over on the American people."

"The American economy," he declared, "is so shaky now that an increase in the tax burden might easily lead to a depression with millions out of jobs."

Chinese Troops Head For Hainan

HONG KONG —(UP)— More than 50,000 nationalist troops from Canton and Kwangtung provice escaped by the west river in the last days before Canton's fall and now are heading for Hainan island, private reports said today.

The troops are commanded by Gen. Yu Han-Mou, who advised his family by telephone that he was seeking sanctuary on Hainan, off the southwest China coast.

HONOR TAFT AND GREEN

GAMBIER — (AP) — William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) will receive honorary doctor of laws degrees tomorrow when the original cornerstone of Old Kenyon college is relaid.

Woman Seriously Injured

Car Hits Mrs. Eva Leppo

An 86-year-old West Fourth street woman was critically injured shortly before 10 p. m. yesterday when struck by a car, driven by a Senior high school girl student near the victim's home, just east of Ausdale avenue.

Mrs. Eva A. Leppo, 741 West Fourth street, suffered a skull fracture when struck by a car driven by Virginia Rae Bowie, 17, of 501½ Lexington avenue.

Mrs. Leppo, mother of Mrs. O. F. Shively of the West Fourth street address, was returning from a class meeing at the First Christian church when the accident occurred. The aged woman was reported in critical condition today at General hospital.

According to police, Mrs. Leppo had alighted from a city bus at the north curb near her home and was crossing behind the bus diagonally to the south curb when the Bowie car struck her.

Miss Bowie told officers she was blinded by the lights of the bus which had just pulled away from the corner and by the lights of another car which was passing the bus. Both vehicles were headed west.

Miss Bowie, headed east on West Fourth street, said she didn't see the pedestrian until the woman was only a few feet from her car. Police estimated the speed of the Bowie car at between 30 and 35 miles per hour.

It was believed that Mrs. Leppo had waited for the one car to pass and was in the center of the street when struck by the auto.

Study Tire Grievance

A "grievance" walk-out within the passenger tire building department at Mansfield Tire and Rubber at 11.30 p. m. yesterday, brought an emergency meeting this morning between company and union officials.

Although it was not learned how many of the workers in the department had participated in the walk-out John Gross, president of Local 17, United Rubber Workers, CIO, said 110 men are employed there. Gross said the entire plant was temporarily closed down on company order at the time of the walk-out last night.

"The walk-out was unauthorized by the union but the workers went out on their own," Gross said.

"We're going to try to iron out the difficulties and have the workers back by Monday."

Gross said the work stoppage followed a dispute in the department which was taken up at a meeting of labor and management officials yesterday. Gross said the "grievance was not straightened out at the meeting."

"The men who walked out were ordered back to their jobs last night but they didn't budge," Gross added.

Company officials who offered "no comment" on the situation today, however, said the entire plant was operating at normal production.

Maximum of Five Years Given to 10

(Compiled from Wire Dispatches)

NEW YORK—The eleven top leaders of the American communist party were sentenced to prison today for conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow of the United States government by force and violence.

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina sentenced all of the defendants except Robert G. Thompson, New York state communist party chairman, to five-year prison terms and fines of $10,000.

The government had recommended 10 years imprisonment for each of the 11 convicted communist leaders.

The recommendation was made by U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey. He made no recommendation for a fine.

Thompson got three years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

Identical sentences were handed down against Eugene Dennis, the party's general secretary; John Gates, editor-in-chief of the Daily Worker, party newspaper; New York City Councilman Benjamin J. Davis jr.; Jack Satchner, national educational director; Henry Winston, national organizational secretary; John Williamson, labor secretary; Gilbert Green, Illinois chairman; Carl Winter, Michigan chairman; Gus Hall, Ohio chairman, and Irving Potash, vice-president of the International Fur and Leather Workers, and a member of the party's national board.

The judge listened intently when McGohey read that Irving Potash, another defendant, sentenced to a two-year prison term had been in 1940 on a charge of conspiracy to influence and intimidate witnesses in an anti-trust case.

"Did he serve that sentence? Medina asked.

"Yes, he did," McGohey replied.

The prosecutor said the Russian-born Potash, who is fighting deportation charges, also was jailed in Brooklyn in 1919 for advocating criminal anarchy.

McGohey said defendant Gilbert Green, in applying for a job as a postal clerk in Chicago, used a false name.

"Every statement on the application was false," the prosecutor added.

"I can believe that very well," Medina said.

From time to time the judge leaned forward and made notes on a pad as McGohey continued his long recitation of names, dates and events.

The U.S. attorney said Dennis was regarded by communists throughout the world as holding the highest position in any communist party anywhere.

Referring to defendant Robert Thompson, McGohey read that he had won the Distinguished Service Cross in the war.

"I shall give that the most careful consideration," said Medina.

Last-minute courtroom statements by the 11 top-ranking U. S. communist leaders delayed their sentencing.

While sympathizers marched in a chanting picket line outside the federal court house, Judge Medina gave each defendant and each lawyer the opportunity to make a statement.

Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the communist party, and Benjamin J. Davis jr., co-defendant, made the statements on behalf of all the others.

Three Navy Planes Lost

WILLIAMS AIR FORCE BASE Ariz. — (UP) — Nearly 40 rescue planes took off at dawn today to search for three navy fighter planes in the mountainous section of southeastern Arizona.

The missing planes, single-seater F4U Vought-Corsairs, disappeared Wednesday in violent snow-and-rain storms while being ferried from El Paso, Tex., to Litchfield naval air facility near Phoenix, Ariz.

Search craft traced their route from ElPaso but found no sign of them.

Air force rescue units joined Navy planes in the search for the missing planes.

The navy withheld the identity of the missing pilots pending today's search and notification of relatives.

Killed In Crash

NASHVILLE, Tenn. —(UP— UCLA football Coach Red Sanders was en route here today to arrange for the funeral of his father, Henry Edgar Sanders, 76, who was killed last night when his car smashed into a train.

City Phone Rate Study Delayed

Accountants Await Official Report

The firm of rate experts hired by city council on Oct. 5 to prepare a case against the Mansfield Telephone company's application for a rate increase has not started its investigation, Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison said today.

J. A. Woodward, chief engineer of Woodward and Company, engineers and accounts, told Garrison yesterday by telephone he had not received an official copy of the Public Utilities Commission's report on the application. The PUCO report Woodward referred to reached city officials Sept. 30.

City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch said he notified the PUCO by mail Oct. 6 that Woodward and Company had been hired as the city's official representative. The city solicitor said the letter instructed the PUCO to mail Woodward and Company a copy of the report on the company's application.

"Woodward said he would come to Mansfield the latter part of next week to talk about the case," Garrison said.

Meanwhile, Kalbfleisch today said he is writing a second letter to the PUCO informing it the city has hired Woodward, and asking that a copy of the report be mailed to the Columbiana, O., firm.

The law allows the city, or any other interested person, 30 days to file a protest from the time the PUCO report is completed.

The city has filed its protest to the application.

The PUCO then sets a date for a hearing on the application.

Top PUCO officials were in a special hearing today and could not be reached for comment on whether the city will be given sufficient time to prepare its case.

A spokesman for the PUCO's telephone rates division said he couldn't answer that question.

Previously, PUCO officials said the hearing on the application would probably be held in "early November."

Woodward, when he talked to city council on Oct. 5, said the PUCO would grant time to prepare its case "if an honest effort is being made."

FBI Agents Arrest 2nd Murder Suspect

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Benjamin Edwin Ranson, 34, one of two brothers wanted for questioning in the slaying of a New Yorker at Wadesboro, N. C., was arrested at Zanesville early today.

A. E. Ostholthoff, special FBI agent in charge at Cincinnati, announced here FBI agents and Zanesville police took Ranson into custody in a hotel room. He had registered there as Curley Rice.

Ashland Lights Go Out

Emergency Generator Rushed To Darkened Hospital

By VIRGINIA LEED
(N-J Staff Correspondent)

ASHLAND — A power failure at the Ohio Public Service sub-station at 6:30 last night plunged half of the town and the southern rural section into darkness and sent Ashland firemen rushing to darkened Samaritan hospital with an emergency generator to provide lights for the institution.

The failure cut off lighting in the business district, the south part of the city and outlying districts. It occurred just prior to the scheduled opening of Parents' Night at city schools, catching teachers, parents and children as they were en route to school buildings.

Lights were on again at 7:30 p. m., the time for school to open, but everybody was tardy.

At the hospital firemen hooked up extension lights through the halls with the generator operating from a truck outside. There were no emergencies encountered at the hospital during the outage, hospital attaches reported later.

Traffic was snarled, police were flooded with calls, and the switchboard room of the Northern Ohio Telephone company was a darkened madhouse as O. P. S. employes worked frantically to repair the damage at the sub-station.

The outage occurred at 6:30 p. m. when a current potential burned up at the substation.

Meantime 20 switchboard operators at the telephone office worked frantically in the darkened room to handle the floods of calls resulting from the sudden blackout. The switchboard itself was in operation but only two small lights at each end of the boards were available for lighting.

"The switchboards looked like Christmas trees during that hour" was the way one operator explained the floods of calls which flashed in.

Night Desk Chief Lossing Young at the police department headquarters called out every available patrolman to take care of the children who had already reached the schools in the south part of the city and to try to untangle the traffic snarls in downtown Ashland.

"I think everybody with a car got out and ran around town during the blackout", Night Chief Young declared. "I was sweating blood down here trying to handle all the calls, most of them inquiries as to why the lights were out. "I couldn't even get the line long enough to call the O. P. S. to find out myself."

Everybody who could find candles in the dark lighted them in their homes and supplied unfortunate neighbors who had no candles available.

It was the longest outage in many years in Ashland O. P. S. workers said.

Union Head Reports Threats

Hawkins Says Men Tried To Enter Home

Joseph Hawkins, president of Local 711, United Electrical Workers, said today he had been threatened in his attempts to rid the union of communist party followers.

Hawkins said a note stating: "Hawkins: It doesn't pay to be a wise guy. You're not going to get away with it," was found pinned to a sofa on the porch of his Lucas home this week.

He said the note, which has been turned over to Sheriff E. P. Long, was on brown wrapping paper. Wording on the note, he added, was composed entirely of words clipped from a newspaper. The note was unsigned.

Hawkins said it was the second threat he has received in recent weeks, the first coming from a carload of left-wing union members who demanded entrance to his home.

The union president won the backing of the majority of union members late last month at a mass meeting, at which support of CIO principles in opposition to the left-wing dominated UE was pledged.

Commenting on non-communist oaths filed today by left-wing UE officials, President Albert J. Fitzgerald, Secretary-Treasurer Julius Emspak, and director of organization James J. Matles, Hawkins said:

"Regardless of that signing, what walks like a duck, quacks like a duck, looks like a duck, associates with other ducks, must be a duck.

"It will take more than an affidavit to convince me that Fitzgerald, Emspak and Matles were never communist party sympathizers," Hawkins added.

The affidavits are required by the labor law before a union can have access to National Labor Relations Board machinery for such things as collective bargaining elections. Authenticity of the oaths is a matter for the justice department to check on. The UE has been described in hearings of the House un-American Activities committee as a hot-bed of communist activity.

At the same time, Cleveland Common Pleas Judge Joseph A. Artl barred leftist officers in Ohio's CIO UE from taking money out of the $50,000 district treasury.

The judge handed down the decision yesterday after a group of recently elected right-wing officers charged the group's left-wing leaders aimed to "dissipate" the treasury balance. The court order also bans left-wingers from "calling, holding, attending or arranging any meetings."

Hawkins said the action against the left-wingers originated with the right-wing district meeting held under protest from the left-wing faction early this month in Columbus.

Defendants named in the court case included William Kozma of Local 758, United Electrical Workers, CIO, of Mansfield.

Register City Babies For Contest

Registration for a baby's beauty contest, sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, 3494, will be held in the Infants department of the R. B. Maxwell company, beginning tomorrow.

Mrs. Virgil Hageman, president of the auxiliary and chairman of the contest, said registration would open at 9:30 a. m. and continue until 5:30 p. m. tomorrow. Parents also may reg- 9 p. m. Monday.

The contest is being held to find the two healthiest and most beautiful babies in the city. It ister their children from noon to is open to all boys and girls under five years of age.

No entries may be made by telephone, but children need not be present for registration.

Winners will be chosen at a special program at Johnny Appleseed auditorium Nov. 21.

'Y' Moves To Get Building

Action to obtain new facilities for the YMCA and YWCA has been started with a permanent YMCA building committee being appointed to work with a like committee from the YWCA.

The joint committee will draw up recommendations on plans for raising funds for the proposed building. The committee was approved by the "Y" board of directors, General Secretary Maurice Taylor said.

The board also passed the new physical education department's policy program which included membership qualifications, program phases and schedules.

J. O. Hanley announced the recent membership drive netted 911 adults and 565 boys in addition to the continuous members, making a record high of 1,023 men and 1,050 boys.

QUITTING BUSINESS

The Quality Furniture company at 80 West Third street, one of Mansfield's older furniture stores, has announced it will go out of business. The store has been at the present site since fire destroyed its quarters on North Park street in 1944.

Ex-Sheriff Goes With Weidner

Former Richland County Sheriff Frank E. Robinson has joined the sales staff at the Weidner Pontiac company, 22 East Second street, it was announced today by C. J. Solomon, company manager.

Robinson, whose term in office expired in January, started his new duties Monday, and said that since leaving the sheriff's office he has just been "resting and working on the remodeling of his home".

Parents See Class Work

More than 500 parents, whose children attend Johnny Appleseed junior high school, found out last night what students there do during a normal day of study.

The 500 reported to home rooms, got daily schedules and went through the routine of classroom study for a day. They were members of the school P-TA and the curriculum was planned as the first meeting of the year.

Following the 10-minute classes, parents adjourned to the auditorium and heard H. W. Arlin, school board president, talk on the three-mill levy. P-TA members unanimously endorsed the issue after Arlin's talk.

The 30 teachers, members of the Johnny Appleseed staff, were introduced by G. W. Harmony, principal, who explained the subjects taught by each and their relation to the school schedule.

Following a report on socialized medicine, given recently before the Richland County Medical Society auxiliary, P-TA members agreed to write to their congressmen and express their opinions on the subject.

A social hour in the cafeteria, with refreshments, followed the meeting. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schad were chairmen of the social committee.

Injured Woman's Condition 'Fair'

Wilma E. Farkas, of New York City, was in "fair" condition at General hospital today after suffering injuries in an accident here yesterday.

The 35 - year - old woman suffered serious injuries when the wheels of an auto wrecker ran over her at the Cates Auto Wrecking, 595 Park avenue east road, yesterday.

She suffered eight broken ribs and bruises.

Mark Clark Has Trouble With Unity

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)— Gen. Mark W. Clark knows how hard it is to unify the armed forces.

He told the House armed services committee yesterday that while he was serving in San Francisco, he was authorized to order commanders of the three services to find out how many air fields they could eliminate within 100 miles of the city.

"They came back recommending one more field," he said.

Recover Four Stolen Bikes

Four stolen bicycles were recovered in Mansfield yesterday, two of them thrown into the lake at North Lake park; another found in Touby's Run near No. 2 fire station and the third, found dismantled at a West Fourth street address.

A bicycle, belonging to Don Miller, 184 Crouse street, and stolen from the YMCA Wednesday, was found by police early today at 129 West Fourth street, its handlebars and front wheel missing.

The bike, found in the creek at the rear of 305 North Main street, was reported to police by No. 2 station fireman J. W. Lowman.

Shortly after 5:30 p. m. yesterday, police were called to North Lake park where two boys said they had fished their bicycles out of the lake where they had been thrown.

Crash Hurts 3 Ashlanders

ASHLAND — Three Ashland young people are in "fair" condition today in Samaritan hospital here following an automobile accident at midnight on State Route 89. All were unconscious when taken from the wreckage.

Ralph Rogers, Ashland county deputy sheriff, identified the owner and driver of the new convertible which was demolished as Charles J. Rosenbluh jr., 23, of Ashland, R. D. 3. Rogers said the driver lost control of the car coming up a hill a mile and a half north of State Route 250 on State Route 89.

The car upset, rolled over twice and come to rest upside down, Rogers said.

The driver is employed by his father at Rosie's Lunch, 236 East Fourth street, and suffered a fractured left arm and lacerations and abrasions of the face.

The two injured passengers in the Rosenbluh car were identified by authorities as Katherine Hootman, 17, of 422 Virginia avenue, and Bonnie Dean Anders, 17, of 717 Keen avenue. Miss Hootman was thrown 40 feet from the wrecked car and suffered a possible skull injury and lacerations of the face and scalp.

Miss Anders suffered a possible fracture of the right jaw and facial lacerations. Hospital attaches reported the conditions of all three victims as "fair" this morning.

Chosen Youth Group Head

Charles E. Clingan has been chosen representative for District 2 of the Ohio State Youth Council, it was announced today.

Clingan, who has charge of 12 counties within the district, was elected at a recent district meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau in Springfield township.

A native of Weller township and graduate of Union high school, Clingan has been a member of the Richland County Farm Bureau Youth Council for the past five years and has served one term as president of the council.

He is adviser to the "Happy Farmers" 4-H club, is a member of the Franklin Methodist church and resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Judd Clingan on State Route 545.

Williams Named Lineman of Week As Rice Grid Ace

HOUSTON, Tex.— (AP) —James Alvis (Froggy) Williams, anchor of the Rice line, said today "I'm surprised as all get-out" over being named lineman of the week by the Associated Press.

But it wasn't anything startling to others around the Rice football bailiwick. Coach Jess Neely said it was richly deserved and Williams "is an all-American without doubt. He has been a consistently good player for us for four years, is an excellent student and a fine boy. I am very proud of him."

Williams earned the national honor of his great play against Southern Methodist last week when he scored two touchdowns, set up two more, kicked five extra points and brought the comment from Coach Matty Bell of SMU that "he's an all-America if ever there was one." Williams sparked Rice to a 41-27 victory over South Methodist.

Paging the Grapevine!

We're Looking for a House to Rent . . .

A three bedroom one, preferably, but what have you got?

Everyone tells us the only way to find a house these days is via the grapevine.

We can't find a house, we can't even find the grapevine . . . darn it.

Got any clues? Drop a line to Box 180, News-Journal.

Oh yes, we're three nice people, easy to get along with, and we can tell you the names of other people besides ourselves who think so.

WANT TO DRIVE A BARGAIN? SEE WEIDNER

1948 PONTIAC (8) DELUXE STREAMLINER 4-DOOR SEDAN

Again we have the outstanding car buy in town. Just one year old, black finish with white sidewall tires. Tutone mohair upholstering with seat covers. Owned by local business man who trades every year. This Pontiac is the best one made in '48. Equipped with everything: Radio, heater, clock, directional signal lights, fog lights, windshield washer and rear window wiper. It also has all the small accessories: wheel rings, flexible steering wheel, back up lights, fender panels and bumper guards. It has that famous G. M. Hydra-Matic drive. Here's a car with very low mileage, as well as price. Bill sez, "sell it to a local party and we'll have a satisfied friend and customer." Think of it! Priced at only—

1947 PONTIAC

8 Streamliner 4-dr sedan. Tutone grey finish, broadcloth upholstering, our best radio, heater and defrosters. Fully equipped with flexible wheel clock air foam cushions directional signal lights back-up light, bumper rails and fender panels. Locally owned with very low mileage.

$1350.00

1947 PONTIAC

(6) Streamliner Sedan Coupe. Beautiful jet black finish (it really sparkles), Broadcloth upholstery that has always been covered. Equipped with large radio, underseat heater and defrosters, flexible steering wheel, electric clock, wheel rings and back-up lights. Here is a late model owned locally. Very low mileage. Finest condition. Traded in on a new '49 Pontiac by a satisfied Pontiac owner.

$1350.00

1947 CHEVROLET

Club coupe. See this car for a real buy . . . It has everything in accessories such as radio, clock, heater, defrosters, flexible steering wheel, windshield washers and many others. This car has a beautiful maroon finish. Motor and tires in A-1 condition. This one is very dependable and beautiful

$1150.00

1946 DODGE

Custom 4 Door Sedan. One of the last 46 Dodges to be manufactured in this country. Equipped with radio, heater, defrosters, fine Broadcloth upholstering with seat covers. Flexible steering wheel and all new Air Ride tires. Runs like new. Locally owned. Low mileage.

1940 PONTIAC

Six 4-door sedan. Jet black finish. New paint. Equipped with seat covers, radio and defrosters. Runs like new. Has been cared for. Priced for only

$595.00

1939 PONTIAC

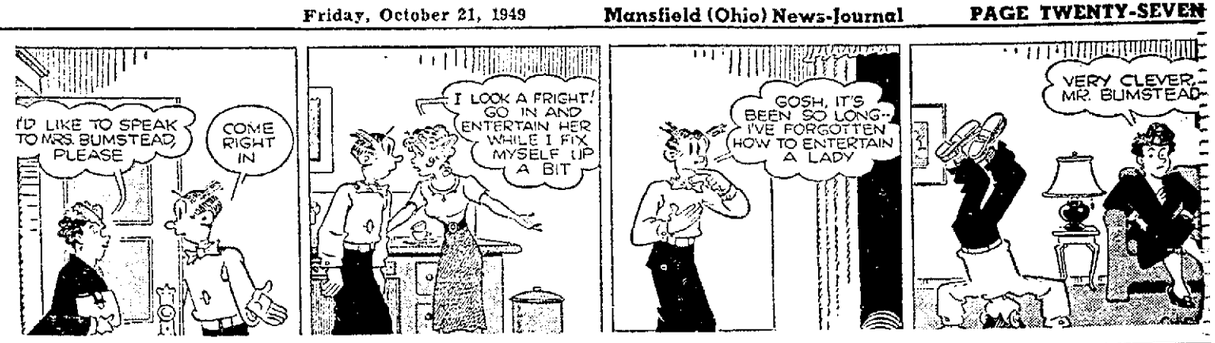
BLONDIE



I'D LIKE TO SPEAK TO MRS. BUMSTEAD, PLEASE COME RIGHT IN
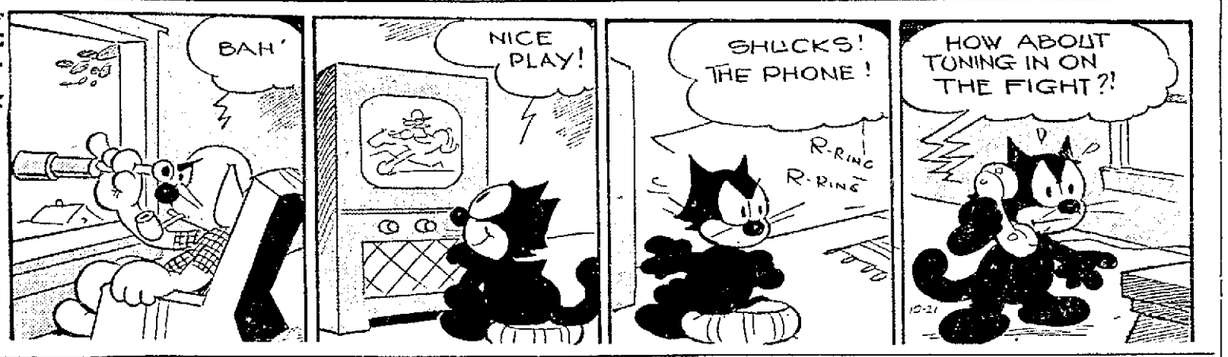
I LOOK A FRIGHT! GO IN AND ENTERTAIN HER WHILE I FIX MYSELF UP A BIT
GOSH, IT'S BEEN SO LONG-- I'VE FORGOTTEN HOW TO ENTERTAIN A LADY
VERY CLEVER, MR. BUMSTEAD



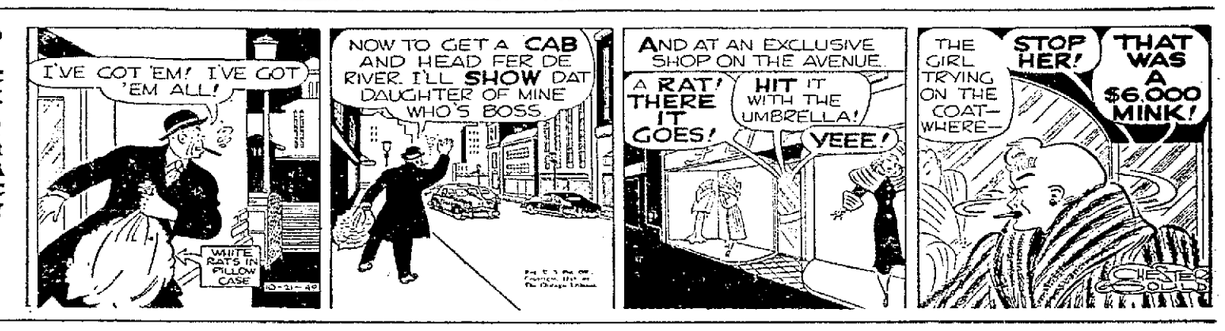
ORPHAN ANNIE

LOOK, MISTER-- I DON'T KNOW YOUR GAME AND I DON'T CARE-- BUT TH' BOYS TELL ME YOU'VE BEEN CASIN' THAT OLD BARGE WHERE WE EAT...
WHAT'S IT TO YOU?
10-21-49
NOTHIN', LONG AS YUH KEEP YER NOSE CLEAN, CHUM-- BUT IF YOU'RE SHOPPIN' FOR TROUBLE JUST START MESSIN' 'ROUND THAT BARGE--SEE!
YEAH? I CAN HANDLE ANY TROUBLE I START, WISE GUY...
IF YOU THINK I CAN'T--WELL-- NOW'S A FINE TIME TO FIND OUT...
IT'D BE A PLEASURE-- BUT THIS IS A WARNING--NOT A CHALLENGE...
HAROLD GRAY

TERRY & THE PIRATES

SO, MISS GILBERT, YOUR BUSINESS WITH THE LATE SULIMAN IS NOT FOR POLICE EARS, EH?
WHERE CAN A GAL HIRE A GOOD MOUTHPIECE IN THIS TOWN, CHEAP?
THE WEAPON CAME FROM HERE, BESIDE ITS MATE. IT WAS PICKED UP--AND USED--BY SOMEONE THE VICTIM HAD ADMITTED...
IT COULD HAVE BEEN YOU, MISS GILBERT--OR IT COULD HAVE BEEN THE ANONYMOUS TIPSTER...
UH-HUH, AND FROM YOUR ANGLE THERE'S ONLY ONE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN US...
YOU'VE GOT ME!
GEORGE WUNDER

DICK TRACY



I'VE GOT 'EM! I'VE GOT 'EM ALL!
WHITE RATS IN PILLOW CASE

NOW TO GET A CAB AND HEAD FER DE RIVER. I'LL SHOW DAT DAUGHTER OF MINE WHO'S BOSS
AND AT AN EXCLUSIVE SHOP ON THE AVENUE...
A RAT! THERE IT GOES!
HIT IT WITH THE UMBRELLA!
YEEE!
THE GIRL TRYING ON THE COAT-- WHERE-- STOP HER!
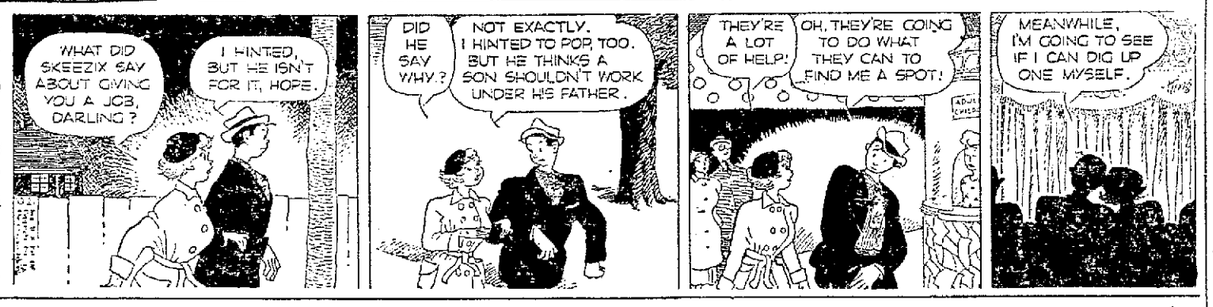
THAT WAS A $6,000 MINK!
CHESTER GOULD

GASOLINE ALLEY



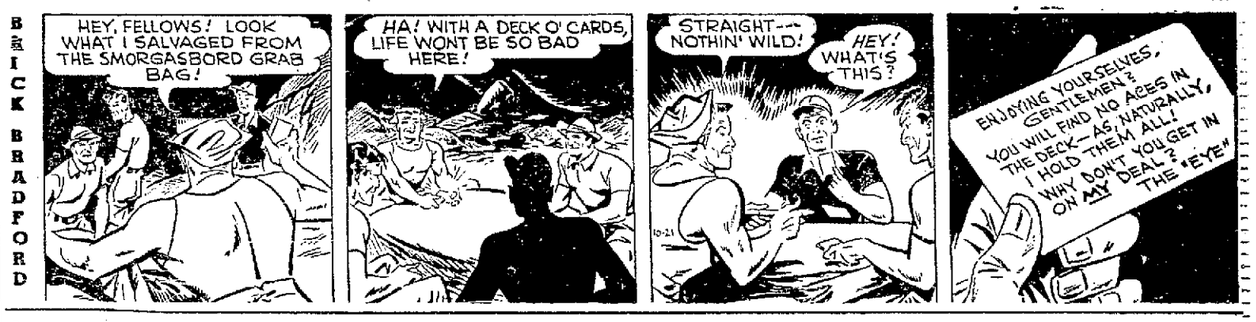
WHAT DID SKEEZIX SAY ABOUT GIVING YOU A JOB, DARLING?
I HINTED, BUT HE ISN'T FOR IT, HOPE.
DID HE SAY WHY?
NOT EXACTLY. I HINTED TO POP, TOO. BUT HE THINKS A SON SHOULDN'T WORK UNDER HIS FATHER.
THEY'RE A LOT OF HELP!
OH, THEY'RE GOING TO DO WHAT THEY CAN TO FIND ME A SPOT!
MEANWHILE, I'M GOING TO SEE IF I CAN DIG UP ONE MYSELF.

LIL ABNER

BUT--I HAVEN'T DONE ANYTHING TO YOU!!--WHY DO YOU HATE ME?
WELL--THINGS AIN'T BEEN TOO GOOD AROUND HERE LATELY--AND US HOODLUMS GOTTA BLAME IT ON SOMEBODY--SO IT MIGHT AS WELL BE YOU!!
THIS IS AN EMERGENCY CALL, KIGMIES!!

WOW!--I FEEL BETTER ALREADY!!
-AN' TH' NICE THING ABOUT KICKIN' THIS GROUP AROUND IS--THEY DON'T KICK BACK!!
oh--on the contrary--we LOVES it!!
YOU SEE, SUH--THASS WHY KIGMIES WAS BORN--SO FOLKS KIN TAKE OUT THAR MEANNESS ON THEM--STEAD OF ON OTHER FOLKS. AH, BRANG ONE FO' YO' DRESSED AS A HOODLUM!!--GO AHEAD--KICK HIM!!

BRICK BRADFORD

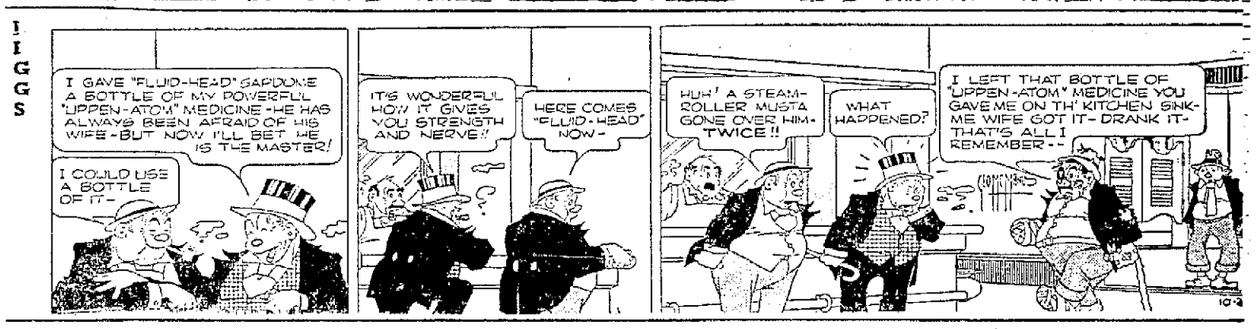


HEY, FELLOWS! LOOK WHAT I SALVAGED FROM THE SMORGASBORD GRAB BAG!
HA! WITH A DECK O' CARDS, LIFE WON'T BE SO BAD HERE!
STRAIGHT--- NOTHIN' WILD!
HEY! WHAT'S THIS?
ENJOYING YOURSELVES, GENTLEMEN? YOU WILL FIND NO ACES IN THE DECK--AS, NATURALLY, I HOLD THEM ALL! WHY DON'T YOU GET IN ON MY DEAL? THE "EYE"

OKAY, MISTER..

OKAY, MISTER.. I'LL LOOK AFTER THE KID...
WHO IS THIS MAN, VALERIE?
HE GAVE ME A RIDE...AND THEN I GUESS I TALKED TOO MUCH ABOUT MY RICH GRANDFATHER.. I THINK HE WANTS TO KIDNAP ME!
DID YOU THREATEN THIS LITTLE GIRL?
AND SUPPOSE I DID.. SO WHAT?

IGGS

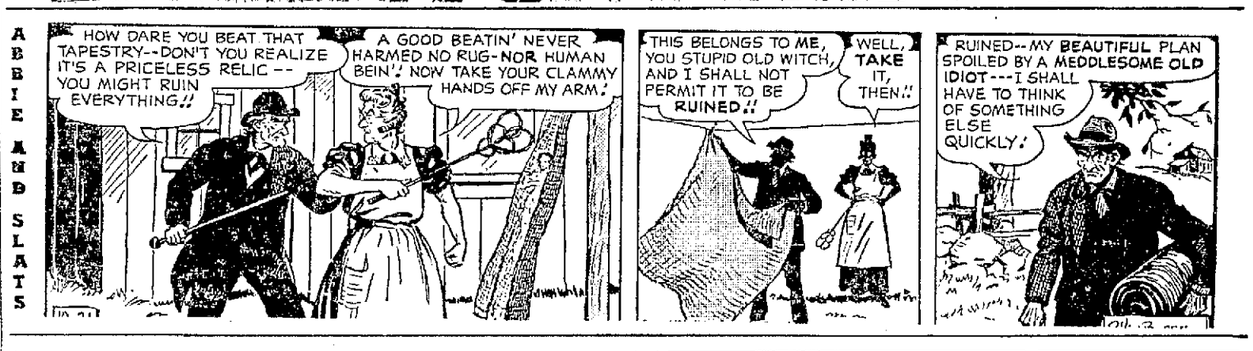


I GAVE "FLUID-HEAD" GAPDONE A BOTTLE OF MY POWERFUL "UPPEN-ATOM" MEDICINE--HE HAS ALWAYS BEEN AFRAID OF HIS WIFE--BUT NOW I'LL BET HE IS THE MASTER!
I COULD USE A BOTTLE OF IT--
IT'S WONDERFUL HOW IT GIVES YOU STRENGTH AND NERVE!!
HERE COMES "FLUID-HEAD" NOW--
HUH! A STEAM-ROLLER MUSTA GONE OVER HIM--TWICE!!
WHAT HAPPENED?
I LEFT THAT BOTTLE OF "UPPEN-ATOM" MEDICINE YOU GAVE ME ON TH' KITCHEN SINK-- ME WIFE GOT IT--DRANK IT--THAT'S ALL I REMEMBER--

PENNY

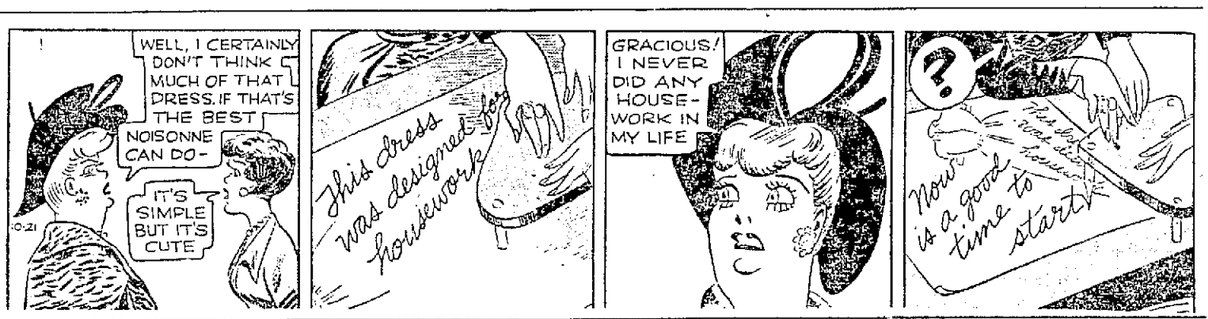
YOU CERTAINLY HAVE AN INTERESTING SCRAPBOOK, HELEN.
OH THERE'S MR. DECIMAL..... THE HANDSOME MATH TEACHER WE HAD..... WERE YOU IN HIS CLASS?
WAS I.....? LOOK AT THESE.....
5 DOS
.....ALL MY ALGEBRA PAPERS TIED IN PINK RIBBON.
10-21

ABBIE AN' SLATS



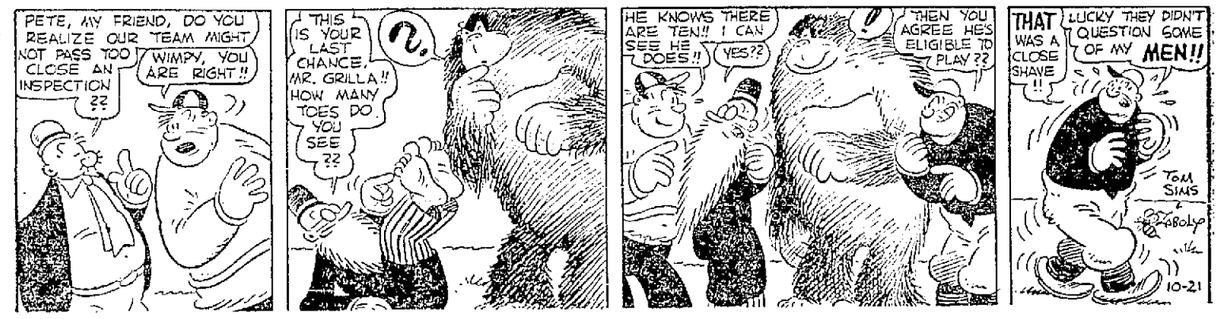
HOW DARE YOU BEAT THAT TAPESTRY--DON'T YOU REALIZE IT'S A PRICELESS RELIC -- YOU MIGHT RUIN EVERYTHING!!
A GOOD BEATIN' NEVER HARMED NO RUG--NOR HUMAN BEIN'! NOW TAKE YOUR CLAMMY HANDS OFF MY ARM!
THIS BELONGS TO ME, YOU STUPID OLD WITCH, AND I SHALL NOT PERMIT IT TO BE RUINED!!
WELL, TAKE IT, THEN!!
RUINED--MY BEAUTIFUL PLAN SPOILED BY A MEDDLESOME OLD IDIOT---I SHALL HAVE TO THINK OF SOMETHING ELSE QUICKLY!

TILLIE



WELL, I CERTAINLY DON'T THINK MUCH OF THAT DRESS. IF THAT'S THE BEST NOISONNE CAN DO-
IT'S SIMPLE BUT IT'S CUTE
This dress was designed for housework
GRACIOUS! I NEVER DID ANY HOUSE-WORK IN MY LIFE
Now is a good time to start!
10-21

POPEYE



PETE, MY FRIEND, DO YOU REALIZE OUR TEAM MIGHT NOT PASS TOO CLOSE AN INSPECTION ??
WIMPY, YOU ARE RIGHT!!
THIS IS YOUR LAST CHANCE, MR. GRILLA!! HOW MANY TOES DO YOU SEE ??
HE KNOWS THERE ARE TEN!! I CAN SEE HE DOES!!
YES??
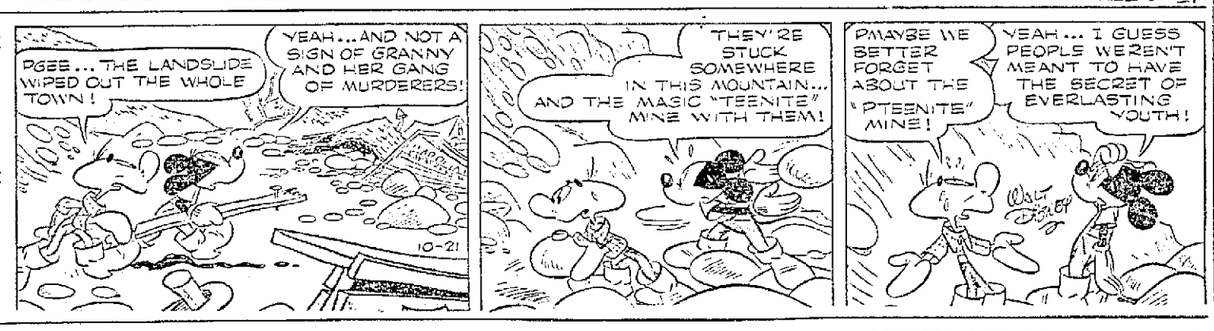
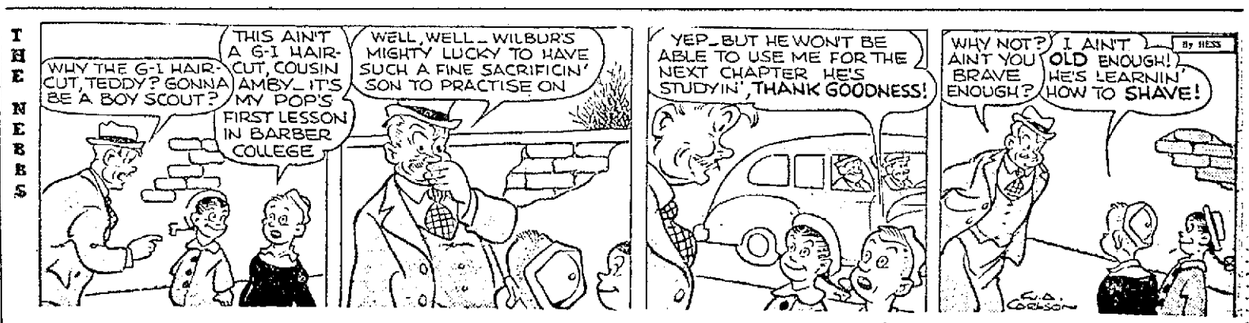
THEN YOU AGREE HE'S ELIGIBLE TO PLAY??
THAT WAS A CLOSE SHAVE!!
LUCKY THEY DIDN'T QUESTION SOME OF MY MEN!!
TOM SIMS
10-21

MICKEY MOUSE



PGEE... THE LANDSLIDE WIPED OUT THE WHOLE TOWN!
YEAH...AND NOT A SIGN OF GRANNY AND HER GANG OF MURDERERS!
10-21
THEY'RE STUCK SOMEWHERE IN THIS MOUNTAIN... AND THE MAGIC "TEENITE" MINE WITH THEM!
MAYBE WE BETTER FORGET ABOUT THE "TEENITE" MINE!
YEAH... I GUESS PEOPLE WEREN'T MEANT TO HAVE THE SECRET OF EVERLASTING YOUTH!
Walt Disney

THE NEBS



WHY THE G-I HAIR-CUT, TEDDY? GONNA BE A BOY SCOUT?
THIS AIN'T A G-I HAIR-CUT, COUSIN AMBY. IT'S MY POP'S FIRST LESSON IN BARBER COLLEGE
WELL, WELL -- WILBUR'S MIGHTY LUCKY TO HAVE SUCH A FINE SACRIFICIN' SON TO PRACTISE ON YEP--BUT HE WON'T BE ABLE TO USE ME FOR THE NEXT CHAPTER HE'S STUDYIN', THANK GOODNESS!
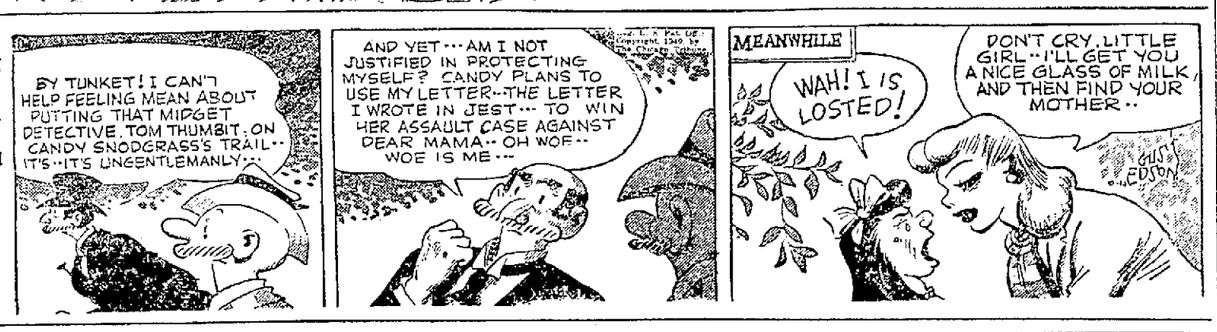
WHY NOT? AIN'T YOU BRAVE ENOUGH?
I AIN'T OLD ENOUGH! HE'S LEARNIN' HOW TO SHAVE!
By HESS

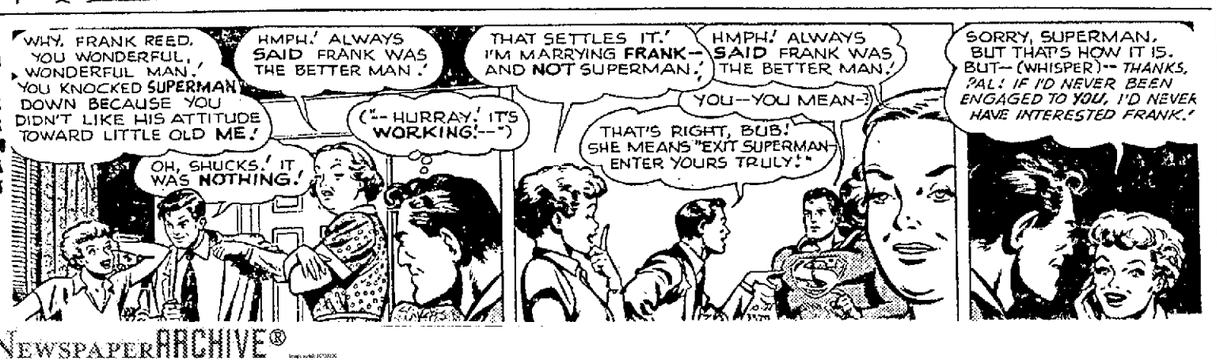
THE GUMPS



BY TUNKET! I CAN'T HELP FEELING MEAN ABOUT PUTTING THAT MIDGET DETECTIVE, TOM THUMBIT, ON CANDY SNODGRASS'S TRAIL-- IT'S--IT'S UNGENTLEMANLY...
AND YET... AM I NOT JUSTIFIED IN PROTECTING MYSELF? CANDY PLANS TO USE MY LETTER--THE LETTER I WROTE IN JEST... TO WIN HER ASSAULT CASE AGAINST DEAR MAMA-- OH WOE-- WOE IS ME...
MEANWHILE
WAH! I IS LOSTED!
DON'T CRY, LITTLE GIRL--I'LL GET YOU A NICE GLASS OF MILK, AND THEN FIND YOUR MOTHER--
GUS EDSON

NANCY

SUPERMAN



WHY, FRANK REED, YOU WONDERFUL, WONDERFUL MAN, YOU KNOCKED SUPERMAN DOWN BECAUSE YOU DIDN'T LIKE HIS ATTITUDE TOWARD LITTLE OLD ME!
OH, SHUCKS, IT WAS NOTHING!
HMPH! ALWAYS SAID FRANK WAS THE BETTER MAN!
("-- HURRAY! IT'S WORKING!--")
THAT SETTLES IT! I'M MARRYING FRANK-- AND NOT SUPERMAN!
HMPH! ALWAYS SAID FRANK WAS THE BETTER MAN!
YOU--YOU MEAN--?
THAT'S RIGHT, BUB! SHE MEANS "EXIT SUPERMAN--ENTER YOURS TRULY!"
SORRY, SUPERMAN. BUT THAT'S HOW IT IS. BUT-- (WHISPER)-- THANKS, PAL! IF I'D NEVER BEEN ENGAGED TO YOU, I'D NEVER HAVE INTERESTED FRANK!

1948 PONTIAC (8) DELUXE STREAMLINER 4-DOOR SEDAN

Again we have the outstanding car buy in town. Just one year old, black finish with white sidewall tires. Tutone mohair upholstering with seat covers. Owned by local business man who trades every year. This Pontiac is the best one made in '48. Equipped with everything: Radio, heater, clock, directional signal lights, fog lights, windshield washer and rear window wiper. It also has all the small accessories: wheel rings, flexible steering wheel, back up lights, fender panels and bumper guards. It has that famous G. M. Hydra-Matic drive. Here's a car with very low mileage, as well as price. Bill sez, "sell it to a local party and we'll have a satisfied friend and customer." Think of it! Priced at only—

$1695

Ashland Eagles Seeking Fourth Win of Campaign

ASHLAND—With a successful half-season under their wings, the Ashland college Eagles travel to Hiram college Saturday afternoon in search of their fifth victory in six starts.

It's also Migration Day on the Hilltop and traveling with the Eagles will be a huge host of Ashland students and followers. It is expected to be one of the largest out-of-town followings for the Eagles in recent years.

WATG-FM announced plans today to broadcast the Ashland-Hiram game for those unable to make the trip. Broadcast time over the Ashland station will be 1:55 p. m.

The Eagles rate as a pre-game series between the two schools. However, Coach George Donges of the Eagles is beating down any overt optimism with this warning:

"Hiram hasn't been too successful so far this season. However, it's their Homecoming game and they've always been tough on us. The last time we played up there, we came back with a 30-point loss".

Hiram currently holds one win against three losses. The Terriers' win came against the only Ohio college they've met so far this season. That was a 19 to 6 verdict over Kenyon in their season opener. Since then, the Terriers have lost to Theil (20-7), Upsala, N. Y. (26-7) and Grove City (27-6.)

The Eagles are going to place a good bit of their offensive hopes on two boys, both former Shelby residents.

LEAD SATTACK

Kenny Funk, Coshocton high star who formerly lived in Shelby, has been the main stem of the Eagle offensive this season. Funk is playing his first complete season since 1945 when he won All-Ohio rating. Injuries have kept him on the sidelines for almost all of the intervening games.

Funk is currently averaging 8.4 yards a run. He has carried the ball 40 times for 377 yards. In passing he has faired even better. The Hilltop senior fullback has tossed 41 passes for a net gain of 430 aerial yards and two TD passes.

In other words, the wiry fullback has accounted for 807 of Ashland's 1969 net yards. He has accounted for 42 more yards than the total offensive of Ashland's five opponents who have been able to muster only 765 digits against the Eagles.

Herb Hart, former Shelby high back, is currently leading the Eagle scoring. He has gone across for seven TD's and 42 points. Funk has six touchdowns.

In carrying the ball 58 times, Hart has had a net gain of 340 yards or an average of 5.9 yards a try.

Ashland's next and final home game will be a Homecoming affair with Taylor U. (Ind.), November 5.

Rangers Wind Up Practice Sked Saturday

The Mansfield pro football Rangers wind up their week's practice tomorrow at 10 a. m. at the Richland Driving range.

The crippled Rangers battle the undefeated Massillon Progressive Chevrolets in their most important game of the season Sunday at Stadium field. Massillon leads the Ohio Football league with five straight wins while Mansfield has won four and lost one in league play.

Featuring a hard-hitting attack and a corps of speedy backs — led by Burt Webb and Al Brown—Massillon rates a two-touchdown favorite.

TO MISS GAME

Coach Jimmy Lymper said today that Back Al Schwaner and Ends Bill Yosick and Harold Luckie would difinitely miss Sunday's clash.

In addition, End Jim Burrage and Back Elroy Jones are on the doubtful list. Dave Worner, 190 Bellville star, will replace Jones in the starting lineup while Bob Carpenter will take over as an offensive threat in place of Yosick.

The starting backfield Sunday will probably have Willis Walker at quarterback, Ralph Majors and Pete Bautz at the halfs and Worner at fullback.

Connie's Son Says One More

PHILADELPHIA — (UP) — Connie Mack may retire next year at the end of his 50th season as manager of the Philadelphia Athletics baseball team, according to his son, Connie jr.

The younger Mack, treasurer of the Athletics, said in a radio interview last night that his brother Earl "will succeed Dad when the time comes." Earl Mack has been field manager for his father.

Connie jr., said the Athletics failed to live up to expectations this year because of insufficient reserve strength but said the club is prepared to spend heavily to strengthen the team for next year.

Charles Battles 'Pick-Up' Foes

SACRAMENTO — (UP) — Heavyweight boxing champion Ezzard Charles didn't extend himself here last night in boxing four exhibition rounds against two "pick-up" opponents.

The champion faced Cardil Jones of Vallejo and John Chipman of San Francisco for two rounds each in place of his scheduled appearance against Floyd Gibson and Al Smith. Charles' smanager, Jake Mintz, said the latter two failed to show-up for some reason.

South Carolina Upsets Clemson

COLUMBIA, S. C. — (UP) — Bo Hagan, game quarterback of the South Carolina Gamecocks, drew rave notices today in the wake of his team's upset verdict over arch-rival Clemson.

Hagan, playing with a badly injured knee, plunged for two touchdowns and threw a 40-yard pass for another score as the Gamecocks walloped Clemson, 27 to 13, yesterday in their annual State Fair football classic.

City Cheers For Tygers

loads of Massillon students invaded Mansfield for a pep demonstration of their own A "Beat Mansfield" sign was painted on a Senior high door and another which said, "Massillon 30, Mansfield 0" was put on the press box at Stadium field

Reports from school officials and observers said that the outsiders met with little other success and were soon "chased" out of Mansfield

The trip was apparently in answer to a Mansfield invasion of Massillon Wednesday night

Here s an account of the 'pep raid" which appeared in the Massillon Evening Independent last night:

'The Mansfield Tygers—or so it appears—descended on Washington high school some time Wednesday evening leaving behind dire threats of the doom (?) to befall the Massillon Tigers in Tiger stadium Friday evening

'Supposedly the Tygers have buried the Tigers beneath a mound of earth on the lawn of the school The 'grave" is complete to marker which states 'Here lies the once mighty Massillon Tiger beaten by the mighty Tyger of Mansfield Yea! Tygers" Beneath the marker in small print are the words "Any school spirit Ha-ha (None)"

"A marker also has been erected to the 'deceased" school spirit of students at Washington high school It states "Here lies the school spirit He died for Massillon Born 1930 in Early (meaning unknown) died 1949"

The grave is appropriately decorated with branches of evergreens which suspiciously match the bushes in the front lawn of the high school

"DOOR WINDOWS of the school also were painted with dire threats to the state chumps"

The Senior high band was scheduled to leave early this afternoon in four special buses arranged for by the Tyger Booster club in co operation with the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company

The band will put on one of its black-lighted exhibitions as part of the half-time show

New State Law Aimed at Protecting Children

Buses Must Wait At Roadside

Other Changes Made In Code

Effective today, school bus drivers must wait until the children they discharge are safely at the side of the road on which their homes are located.

The stipulation is part of a recodification of the Ohio school bus law, enacted by the state legislature at its last session. Cpl. L. G. Ridenour, head of the Mansfield state highway patrol post, said the law formerly allowed bus drivers to proceed after discharging their passengers at the side of the road.

On a two or three-lane highway, a motorist, approaching from either the front or the rear of a school bus which has stopped to receive or discharge children, shall stop his car not less than 10 feet from the school bus and shall not proceed until the school bus resumes motion or until signaled by the school bus driver to proceed.

On highways of four or more traffic lanes, the school buses shall receive and discharge children on their residence side of the highway. Motorists, formerly required to stop for buses on four-lane highways, now may pass school buses.

Cpl. Ridenour urged all motorists to familiarize themselves with the new law and to use "extreme caution when approaching a school bus."

Maximum fine for violation of the law is $50.

Sermons Lively As Wires Get Crossed

LONG BEACH, Calif — (AP) — The sermons at First United Presbyterian church were right lively, but the parishioners seemed to laugh in the wrong places.

Rev. Ralph M. Grove finally found the reason: headsets installed for the hard-of-hearing were picking up Long Beach police calls and assorted ham radio broadcasts.

ATTRACTIVE CONTRIBUTOR—Miss Jeanette Powell, attractive stewardess with Trans World Airline, took time off during the flight's regularly scheduled stop in Mansfield to present Robert Glessner, chairman of Team 13 of Public Services division, with her company's contribution to Mansfield's 1949 Community Chest drive.

Man Angered, Seven Perish

KANSAS CITY — (AP) — An unemployed railroad worker signed a statement Wednesday saying he started a fatal rooming house fire because his landlady angered him.

Seven persons died in the fire.

Police Lt. Charles Welch said 43-year-old Alva O. Merritt made an eight-page statement in which he said he threw a lighted match into a box of rubbish to start the blaze.

The statement quoted him as saying Mrs. Ed Bayse, owner of the house, chided him for drinking and keeping company with a girl friend and that it irritated him.

Bellville Man Buys Registered Holstein

Carl Oberlin, Mansfield, sold a registered Holstein-Friesian bull to Jake Hoeflich, Bellville, the Holstein-Friesian association of America announced today.

Change of ownership for the animal, Sir Bess Ormsby Johanna Ross, has been recorded officially by the Holstein-Friesian association. The association issued 25,440 registry and transfer certificates to Ohio breeders during 1948.

2 Men Held In Car Theft

Two men, apprehended here in a stolen car, were turned over to Columbus authorities Thursday by the Mansfield police department.

Louis O. Hodge, 44, no address given, and Virgil W. Crabtree, 39, Lucasville, R. D. 1, were apprehended yesterday by police on the complaint of Mrs. J. C. Swendal, 330 Wood street, who reported seeing a man slumped behind a steering wheel of a car at the corner of Wood street and Walter avenue.

When police investigated, they found Hodge behind the wheel of the parked car and Crabtree beside him. Both men were intoxicated, police say.

A check revealed their car was reported stolen recently in Columbus. The men were detained overnight in the city jail while police notified the Columbus authorities. The car was returned to its owner.

The men will be charged with operating a car without the owner's consent, police reported.

Cubans Hold Saber Duel

HAVANA, Cuba — (AP) — Senator Hector Pages was wounded Thursday in a duel.

Pages and Representative Cesar Cahas, both members of the Authentic party, had a political quarrel and sabers were used on the field of honor.

Only the seconds and a few close friends witnessed the duel, which took place at the country home of Liberal Representative Manuel Benitez.

Pages suffered a cut in the back and another in the neck, and the duel was called off after the third assault. The contenders were reconciled.

The duel was scheduled first to take place with pistols, but the seconds decided at the last moment to use sabers.

Lt. Pankow Named Executive Officer of CAP Group Staff

Lt. E. G. Pankow, commanding officer of Mansfield's Civil Air Patrol squadron, has been appointed executive officer of the CAP group staff, Lt. D. E. Patterson, group adjutant, announced today.

The squadron has just completed a four-week course in the theory of flight conducted by Flight Officer Roland Briggs. Twenty - five senior CAP men and cadets attended the classes.

A new class in navigation will begin Wednesday with Flight Officer James Moore instructing. The navigation course will last 20 weeks.

The squadron also is beginning classes in instrument training. The 164th Air National Guard fighter squadron has loaned the CAP its link trainer for the classes.

Scheduled to take the instrument course are Lt. Pankow, Lt. George Geib, Flight Officer Roland Briggs, Flight Officer James Moore, Flight Officer Phillip Schwaner, S|Sgt. Shelton Gadd, and S|Sgt. Eugene Brimm.

Congress Deals Out Billions

WHATEVER other claims may be made for the first session of the 81st Congress, which has just adjourned, there is no doubt about it having established a new record for appropriations of money that must be provided by taxpayers.

With nine ciphers following the figures "51" (which means that many billions of dollars authorized for expenditure at home and abroad) the total does not seem so impressive as does the statement that this represents appropriations at the rate of $175,000,000 a day during the slightly more than nine months session.

Much of this tremendous cost, of course, is associated with the aftermath of war with steps deemed necessary to prevent another war, but spread of assumed authority by the federal government is responsible for a substantial part of the increased outlay.

Even with the immensity of expenditures authorized by this Congress it is noteworthy that a number of President Truman's proposals, based on campaign promises, were at least postponed, else more billions would have been required to meet costs—as in the case of his strongly urged national health program.

Regardless of the desirability—or necessity—of spending such huge amounts of public money, it cannot be disregarded that national bankruptcy lies ahead unless ways are found to cut down on the government's "take" from taxpayers.

President Truman is quoted as having said yesterday, in an emphatic way, that he is "for economy" and opposed to deficit spending, yet the only remedy he sees for deficit spending is an increase in taxes, which this Congress denied him but which he is again to ask.

Insofar as the immediate situation is concerned, refusal of Congress to repeal the Taft-Hartley law may take a high place on the credit side of its record, for the devastating effects of the current steel and coal strikes clearly evidence need for federal restraints against group action which can spell disaster for the entire country and work hardship on millions of people who become innocent victims of an arbitrarily ordered shut-down of essential industries.

After having so loudly proclaimed his opposition to the Taft-Hartley law—with a campaign promise of its repeal—President Truman is naturally loath to invoke its powers, but it seems unlikely that he will be able to ignore it much longer.

Next year's campaign, on the congressional level, may be regarded as having already started, and it is assumed that the second session of the 81st Congress, scheduled to open next January 3, will be keyed largely toward the 1950 election, which will give greater opportunity than is now possible to estimate its strength and weakness.

Another Halloween Approaches

PLANS already under way indicate that Mansfield is to have another of its successful and unique "Help Hunt Halloween" parades. This event, for many years, has contributed to the festivity of the eve of All Souls' day and has materially contributed to curbing vandalism.

This year's parade, sponsored by Mrs. Ada Hunt Doerr, assisted by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, with the following dance under the aegis of Tau chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, promise an evening of good fun for Mansfielders of all ages.

It is to be hoped that this spirit of proper celebration will prevail in the intervening days before Halloween. The annual autumn festival has in some places and for some people been a stimulus for so-called pranks that were in reality just plain vandalism.

There is no excuse for the destruction of property or causing injury to motorists and pedestrians in the guise of "pranks."

The spirit of Halloween is one of innocent fun—with ghosts, black cats, witches, pumpkin faces, and masquerades of all kinds taking their place in the sport.

Indeed, the fun of Halloween is epitomized in the "Help Hunt Halloween" to which the city is again looking forward.

When Heredity Leaves Its Mark

MANSFIELD links closely with that Cleveland tragedy in which an 18-year-old adopted child has confessed that he murdered his foster mother. The boy was adopted from the Richland county children's home in 1933—when he was under three years of age, with a parental background of subnormalcy, but with hope on the part of his foster parents that this could be overcome by the fine environment offered in his new home.

Many instances of adoption prove satisfactory but in at least occasional cases the outcome is so dreadful as to create fear in the minds of couples who consider adopting a child.

This occurrence serves to emphasize the importance of taking every possible precaution against placement for adoption of mentally subnormal children who become public charges, and strengthens arguments favorable to legal prevention of propagation of children by feeble-minded parents, as the record reveals in this case.

Bill Vaughan, in the Kansas City Star, advises: "Canasta is ideal for four persons who would like to spend the evening playing different games together."

There is appearance of confusion in some minds as to whether the much-talked-about B-36 is a plane or a vitamin.

What Some Other People Are Saying

GEN. OMAR N. BRADLEY, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff: "No one expects the secretary of defense to be an arbiter of technical differences. But it is expected that he will exercise, as the final authority with the President, the will of the people for civilian control of our armed forces. When this authority is disputed, it is open rebellion against civilian control."

* * *

DR. GRANTLEY W. TAYLOR, chairman of the American College of Surgeons committee on cancer: "The best possible cure for cancer so far discovered is a chance to see a patient before cancer has taken hold."

"Workers' Paradise" and the Horrors of Capitalism."

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Dark Outlook Unless Strikes End Soon

THERE are now more than 900,000 workers out on strike, and every day further unemployment develops because of secondary influences. This is not good news business-wise, as Secretary of Commerce Sawyer has advised us.

Even if all strikes are settled at a relatively early date, the injury to the late summer's recovery will be serious. The purchasing power of the nation has already been set back by half a billion, and that amount is increasing daily.

The fact is that the pick up of the past few months has been exaggerated. It was believed that the second quarter of this year was poor but that the third quarter was considerably better. But figures on gross national products now published show an annual rate in the second quarter of $256,000,000,000 and for the third quarter, $255,000,000,000.

Some of this small decline is due to strikes, but two additional elements contributed decisively. There was a decline in exports, even before European devaluation. Also, there was a continued decline in business investment at an annual rate of $3,000,000,000.

The government's encouragement to labor's pension plans, which precipitated the steel strike, has practically cancelled out the government's plan to produce some inflation by paying veterans' life insurance dividends.

Those payments have been going out for more than a month, but with the great loss of purchasing power resulting from strikes, they will not be enough to keep the "boomlet" alive.

* * *

Long-Lasting Effects.

MOREOVER, if management surrenders to the pension demands, the victory will further narrow purchasing power. It has not been sufficiently stressed that creating pension funds will be mildly deflationary.

They have an economic effect quite different from that of wage increases. The money is put away for another day. It goes into bonds and long-term securities and helps neither purchasing power nor investment.

In addition to these economic consequences, there are other unfortunate results already appearing.

Farmers, in happy anticipation of new bins for surplus products—a benefit of which Truman has made so much—are in for disappointment. No steel, no bins. As a result, farm products will deteriorate.

There will be a reduction of inventories essential to normal business. Sharper antagonism among workers—the favored few who get pensions apart from all the rest—will be bad for morale.

Political sentiment outside organized labor will return to pre-Taft-Hartley days. This will sharpen the struggle in next year's election. It will make any revision of the act virtually impossible.

Finally, the involuntary unemployment of many low-income workers because of the strikes of well-paid workers will greatly contribute to deflationary currents.

Since the postwar inflation has been leveling off for a year, a precarious equilibrium will be disturbed by losses in purchasing power which will spread throughout the economy. Optimism will darken, even after the strikes are somehow settled.

Looking Back

Twenty Years Ago Today

Monday, Oct. 21, 1929

Mansfield delegates went to Toledo to attend annual convention of United Lutheran church synod.

Burglars entered Bailey Produce company and stole 20 cases of eggs.

Mrs. Walter T. Jamison was elected president of Mansfield Garden club.

Mrs. Katherine Helt, former Mansfield resident, died in Chicago.

City Foremen's club opened fall season with meeting addressed by James M. Carmody.

Son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wendland.

N. A. Block was elected president of Mansfield Retail Merchants association.

The Nation Today

'Now What'? Being Asked

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — What happens in Washington, now that Congress has quit for the rest of 1949?

True, the town will quiet down a little. No more laws can be passed until Congress comes back into session again.

Until then there can be no more speeches or debates on the floors of House and Senate.

This won't stop congressmen from issuing statements or making speeches wherever they are, if only at a dinner or over the radio.

But — a number of congressmen will be here all the time, working in their offices or scooting around town. Others will stay here to serve on committees which will be holding hearings.

For instance, the House armed services committee is continuing its hearings on the usefulness of the B-36 bomber.

In spite of the congressional shutdown, a heavy volume of news out of Washington probably will continue.

It always seems that way when Congress goes home. That's because the rest of the government still will be doing business.

With Congress here, a lot of the other Washington news gets crowded out a bit or swamped because the congressional news is bigger or, at least, noisier.

Now the news about the rest of the government will get less competition.

* * *

Rest After Labor.

ONE THING is sure: A lot of government officials will get a little rest.

There's been a steady parade of them all year to testify before the various congressional committees that were holding hearings on government spending, foreign affairs, or military doings.

If you were here and watched some of the top government officials again and again forced to leave their desks and troop up to the Capitol to face a committee, you'd wonder how they ever had time to get any work of their own done.

Perhaps the best example of that was the case of David Lilienthal, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, who—day after day before Congress' joint atomic energy committee — defended himself against the charge of "incredible mismanagement" in the AEC made by Senator Hickenlooper, Iowa Republican.

For 45 days this committee heard Lilienthal and others. Then the Democrats on the committee, outnumbering the Republicans, cast a vote clearing the AEC of the charge.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson held the record for government officials who had to shuttle back and forth at the Capitol.

Since foreign affairs took such a lot of Congress time this year, Acheson had to give his views on one problem after another; The Marshall Plan, the Atlantic pact, arms for Europe and other things.

Anyway, whatever peace and quiet seems to have settled over Washington won't last for more than two and a half months.

Congress comes back in January to start the whole thing all over again.

Dave Boone Says:

IT LOOKS more and more like "Baby, It's Cold Outside" is to be the theme song of America this winter, and a lot of folks are going to add—"and inside, too."

* * *

There is talk of government action. Maybe Washington will just distribute an official thermometer "set" at the fixed temperature of 70 degrees and insist that everything's been settled and is under control.

* * *

I see where the bar is considering disbarment of those attorneys for the 11 communists for obstructing justice instead of acting as helpful officers of the court. Those boys did about everything but stage a rodeo in Judge Medina's court. But, the whole question of how far lawyers can go should get consideration by bar associations everywhere.

* * *

It's a cold day that doesn't see—in any city—some attorney or group of attorneys behaving in a manner that does anything but help the judge get at the full facts. There are thousands who rarely rate an "assist."

As Cerf Tells It

Irving Freese, mayor of Norwalk, Conn., thought he deserved a raise in salary. The city council agreed when the payroll was produced. Norwalk's mayor was drawing forty-eight dollars a week. The garbage collector was drawing fifty!

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Income Tax Case Postponed Indefinitely

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — You can understand why folks get cynical about good government when you watch the parade of little income-tax evaders who are hauled to court every week, while certain big boys get their cases postponed interminably.

For instance, it has now been one year since this column—Oct. 19, 1948—first reported the shameless manner in which two road contractors living under the nose of Washington officials, had cheated their government in building the network of macadam roads which wind around the largest building in the world—the Pentagon.

The two contractors, W. J. "Doc" Hardy and F. McKenzie Davidson had been caught by treasury agents quick-changing Uncle Sam out of $500,000 by all sorts of devious tricks.

Among other things they made out checks to two other contractors, W. W. Thomas and S. M. Redd, who later gave T-men affidavits that they never received the checks. Instead Hardy and Davison forged the endorsements, cashed the checks, and deducted this as expense.

However, when the treasury and justice departments finally caught up with them, the two Virginia asphalt kings appealed to powerful Senator Harry Byrd, plus other Virginia politicians. A series of conferences followed. The justice department listened patiently, but stood pat.

Last July the income-tax case of the two men who gyped their government on war-contract taxes was sent to the U. S. District Attorney George Humrickhouse in Richmond for criminal prosecution.

This writer, querying Humrickhouse in July, was told there would be no delay in prosecuting the Hardy - Davison case. It would come before the first grand jury in the autumn.

But when Mr. Humrickhouse was queried this week, he was evasive. The autumn grand jury had been in session for some time, but he said he had no immediate plans for presenting the case. In July he had said he was quite familiar with the case. But on Oct. 17, he talked as if it was something he had never heard of and devoutly hoped would be forgotten.

Note—Mr. Humrickhouse was appointed to his key job as district attorney through the powerful Byrd machine of Virginia.

Truman on Farm Bill.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN hasn't given up on the Brannan farm program, despite the kicking-around it received from Congress. It will definitely be the farm plank of the Democratic party's 1950 campaign, Truman recently assured National Farmers Union Boss Jim Patton.

"The current battle over farm legislation has had at least one good effect," the President told Patton. "It has served to smoke the boys out into the open. We know how they all stand, including some we expected to support us."

The President named no names, but obviously referred to Senator Clint Anderson of New Mexico and Senate Majority Leader Scott Lucas of Illinois. The latter, though keeping out of the headlines, helped to lead the fight against the Brannan income-subsidy program in the Senate.

"I think it's time we took the whole Fair Deal program once more to the people—not only the Brannan farm program and the nomination of Federal Power Commissioner Leland Olds, but everything else Congress has scuttled," advised Patton. "After all, it's the people themselves who have been victimized by this skulduggery."

Truman agreed.

"The combination that fought the Olds nomination was about the toughest lobby I've ever seen," he remarked. "You're absolutely right. We've got to take it on and I have every intention of doing so."

Canadian Gouge.

WHILE prices of most British and Canadian goods have come down as a result of the pound's devaluation, the Canadian newsprint companies, which usually operate as a cabal, have flatly decided not to reduce prices to American newspapers.

This means that the highest newsprint contract prices in history will continue.

It also means that the profits of Canadian newsprint companies will continue at their highest peak, while American newspaper profits are off considerably.

Between 1945 and 1948 for instance Canadian newsprint prices zoomed from $58.50 a ton to $100 per ton, with profits almost trebling.

Profits of such big companies as Abitibi shot from $10,101,512 in 1945 to $25,237,584 in 1948, while Consolidated's profits increased from $10,539,451 to $25,116,345.

Meanwhile the operating profits of a typical cross section of American newspaper dropped 54 per cent.

The interesting fact is that when the shoe was on the other foot, the Canadians immediately put it on. In 1946 when the American dollar was pegged at $1.10 as against $1.00 for the Canadian dollar, the same newsprint companies jumped their prices by exactly ten per cent. But now that the exchange has been reversed, they refuse to drop their prices proportionately.

Note—of course it was the newspapers which yelled loudest for the end of Chester Bowles' OPA and the price controls which kept newsprint at its low 1945 price. However, it's the small papers representing the backbone of a free press which get hit hardest in the present price gouge.

Wall Street Parleys.

SUPER-SECRET talks aimed at ending the steel strike are taking place in Wall street. It probably will be denied, but Ben Moreell of the Jones-Laughlin Steel company, together with Inland and Bethlehem steel, are not happy about the strike.

All three companies had pension plans before the strike, and at a recent secret meeting in New York, Bethlehem, Jones-Laughlin and Inland all pressured U. S. Steel to yield. Enders Voorhees, who really runs U. S. Steel, wouldn't budge.

Assignment: America

Suffering For Culture

By INEZ ROBB

FLORENCE, (By Mail) — It has suddenly occurred to me that some persons, reading these dispatches, may get the reprehensible idea that I am in Europe just for laughs and not for learning.

Nothing could be more un-American, further from the truth or more repugnant to a high-type intellectual like myself. Here in Florence, the flower of the renaissance, I am up to my scuppers in culture and can prove it.

I am suffering something terrible tonight, after only two days in Florence, from tourists disease or museum feet. In fact, I am writing this dispatch with the typewriter propped on my knees and my feet popped into a tub of hot water, seasoned with salt and mustard.

After 48-hours of plowing through the Pitti and Uffizi palaces, the Accademia, the Cathedral, the Bapistry, the Medici chapel and the shops on the Pont Vecchio, I am definitely winded and spavined. Like Citation, I may even have popped an osselet.

At all odds, my feet hurt tonight right up to the second or hip joint.

When I rang for the maid an hour ago, to ask if the Hotel Excelsior would be willing to stake me to a little dry mustard for a foot bath, I thought (1) that the Excelsior hotel might not keep this delicacy in stock and (2) that I might encounter grave difficulty in making the girl understand what I wanted and especially what I wanted it for.

"Moutard por le feet," I said hopefully.

"Si, si, si!" she cried. "Moutard for ze foots!"

She was back with the mustard in three minutes. The tourist-wise Excelsior keeps a stock on every floor, in the linen closet, ready to sooth the tired tilbies.

As I sit here tonight with my fiery feet, I remember that in my salad days, any soprano worth her do-re-mes always included in her repertoire a song that began "I dreamt I dwelt in marble halls, with vassals and serfs by my side."

* * *

Bothersome Shoes.

THOSE marble halls always sounded real tasty, but I never realized until today just what the vassals and serfs were for. It was obviously the job of the vassals and serfs to lug the owners of said marble halls through such halls in sedan chairs. Because hoofing it through said halls is madness. Nothing is harder on the human foot than marble, not even tight shoes.

By the time we reached the Uffizi gallery this afternoon, I had pulled a tendon and was limping badly.

I looked enviously at the Medici Venus, marble, too, but so round, so firm, so fully packed, and so light and easy on her bare marble feet. It gave me an idea.

"I'm going to take off my shoes," I whispered to my spouse.

"No!" he hissed back. "For Pete's sake, don't take off your shoes. People will stare," shuddered this man of staunch conventions.

"Then charge admission," I retorted. "Every time we look at something, we have to pay."

Well, I took off my shoes, and it was forty minutes before anyone even glanced my way. Then a tourist, who identified herself as a resident of Miami Beach, Fla., pulled up abreast of me.

"My dear, you ought to get shoes with crepe rubber soles," she advised me. She thrust out one of her own sensibly shod feet to demonstrate. It was clad in a repulsive brogan with inch-thick soles of crepe rubber.

"I've been tramping through cathedrals and galleries for weeks and never had a twinge," she confided.

"Damn right she hasn't had a twinge!" said a bitter voice issuing from a human wreck, identified as the woman's husband, who walked with the gait of a man who has just trod a bed of glowing coals. "That woman hasn't got feet; she's got shock absorbers!"

"What did I tell you? Put on your shoes!" ordered my spouse. But I couldn't get 'em on.

"Do me a favor," my loved one said. "When we get back to the hotel; just pretend you dont know me. That's all I ask.

And tonight, as I sit here alone with my aching feet, I wonder if I will ever again race at Belmont or Churchill Downs.

Down Honey Creek Way

As the Water Flows By

By LOIS ADAMS BYERS

I SAT awhile beside Honey Creek this morning. There was a jolly wind that bustled through the sycamores and elms and sent leaves skimming. Skipper, my dog companion, waded into the riffles, lapped a little clear water, then moseyed over to investigate a pile of driftwood.

Blue sky overhead. White piles of drifting cloud; an expectancy in the warm wind that might betoken a change of weather.

Near where I sat the yard-high bank had freshly caved in, and crumbled down to the stream's edge. A deep pool had schools of minnows playing. Free and clean, the water hurried smoothly along.

Drifting leaves sailed down the current, whirled about, submerged and formed a tiny reef. Goldenrod and asters grew on the opposite bank — the dainty white and blue asters trailed in the water.

This long field used to support herds of dairy cattle. Now thick growth of swampweed, goldenrod and thornapple encroaches on the bluegrass. The cattle have dwindled to one or two or three.

"Just where does Honey Creek start?" a visitor asked me, recently.

I do not know that. It is all of one piece with the hills and springs, the little streams that feed it. It is the upwelling from deep rocky sandstone that underlies this region; it is the run-off from these last foothills of the Appalachian ranges; it is the overflow from farms and springs and ditches.

I do not own Honey Creek. It used to flow across the south side of our farm, which was 80 acres then. How that pasture was lost is a bit of history that happened before the time of those now living in the neighborhood.

We do not own Honey Creek . . . our spring trickles out to join it. We love it and share its bounteousness; we admire the way it flows around obstacles; we are awe-stricken by it when it goes on its spring rampage; we are blessed by the benediction of its elms and the cooling plash of it on bare skin when summer is here. We even love its frost-bound wintry undertones —for beneath the ice, it is always in motion.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, October 22

It will take tact, sagacity, and concentrated marshalling of forces, funds and influence in order to reap benefit from a set of critical circumstances in which there may be hidden actors or strange complications. While the energies and tangible elements seem secure, yet defeat might come from rash, tempestuous and unreasonable moves, promises, and act with tact.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, are advised to move with tact and studies precision and insight, if difficulties or setbacks are to be sidestepped. The mind seems capable, the energies keyed to practical manipulation of peculiar factors, yet a miscarriage of plans may endanger progressive situations, with loss of prestige. Make cautious plans and carry them out with sagacity.

A child born on this day, may be efficient, energetic and ambitious but a misstep could forfeit its influence with higher-ups.

Flapper Haircut Returns

BY BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

In no time at all, you and your brother probably will be wearing twin hairdos. Hairdressers, always fast men with the shears, are wielding their scissors with ever-increasing gusto. New coiffures show more of the ears, much more of the neck, and when you don a hat, leave the hairdo strictly to the imagination of the onlooker.

If you plan to sport one of these new short-shorts—a hairdo which is completely concealed by your chapeau—be sure that your gown is strictly feminine. Your beau might have admired your short hairdo of last year, but he might not like this new scalped effect, if you wear tailored ensembles to boot.

There is no doubt that some of these new coiffures are pretty, if you have pretty features. Two shown by Jean de Chant in his New York salon are clean and sleek, and give a "not a hair out of place" look.

One is a "little boy bob" closely resembling the boyish bob of two decades ago, not at all popular with the menfolk then. This one has more appeal, is more feminine and might please even a critical maiden aunt.

Another "fringed bob" is startlingly like the "windblown," also of the flapper era.

If you've been chopping away at your hair ever since the short hairdo became popular, perhaps you can take another big whack at it, without distressing results.

But whatever happens don't jump from a shoulder length hairdo to a young lad coiffure unless the hairdresser promises he can grow you a new head of hair, if the menfolk don't like it.

The tried-and-true method of springing a new hairdo on the family is the "take it easy" routine. Girls who have tried it claim that all you need do is have it cut shorter each time. Pretty soon you'll be down to that boyish bob, if that's what you want, and the change won't seem so drastic.

There are thousands of different kinds of mosquitos.

Crestline Woman Elected District Vice President

CRESTLINE — Mrs. William Shultz, of Crestline, was elected senior vice president of the eighth district of Relief corps when a convention of that district was held in Marion Oct. 18.

Attending the convention from the Snyder Relief corps were Mrs. Shultz, Miss Edna Hoffman, Mrs. Vaughan Ritzhaupt, Mrs. Elmer Grim, Mrs. Roe Harris, Mrs. Charles Libens and daughter Marie Libens.

Among the distinguished guests at the district convention were department president Ruth Neese, of Cuyahoga Falls and Cecila Rhoades, of Columbus, department secretary.

The district president, Emma Zeig of Marion, presided for the business meeting when election of officers was held. Rose Walton of Mt. Vernon, was elected president of the district. It was announced that the next district meeting will be held in Mt. Vernon.

LEGION AUXILIARY

Six new members were welcomed into the American Legion Auxiliary in Crestline, when the group held a business session Oct. 17. The newly installed president, Mrs. Lucille Heiber presided.

For the social meeting, the new officers were the hostesses, with Mrs. M. V. Snyder chairman. Refreshments were served following card games. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. A. C. Smith, Mrs. H. E. Eckstein and Mrs. B. I. Pry. A business meeting is planned for Nov. 7.

Bridge Club Entertained

Mrs. Dwight McCullough was hostess to members of the American Legion Auxiliary Bridge Club when the group met in regular session at the Legion home recently. The diversion was played at three tables with score gifts awarded to Mrs. Owen Smith, Mrs. B. F. Cornell and Mrs. Max Lewis.

Plans were made to hold a guest party on Nov. 1 at the Legion home, at which time luncheon will be served at 12:30 p. m. Mrs. Howard Sword and Mrs. Perry Smart will be the hostesses for the occasion.

Jolly Makers Given Party

A Halloween masquerade party was held Wednesday evening by members of the Jolly Makers club at the home of Mrs. Charles Albert, 725 Maple street. A short business meeting preceded the affair, with Mrs. Charles Boyd presiding.

Prizewinners of the Halloween games were Mrs. Miles Force and Mrs. Ralph Frost. Luncheon was served with Halloween appointments. The next meeting will be held Nov. 9 at the home of Mrs. Force, South Linden road.

Hay Ride and Dance Planned

The regular meeting of Mansfield Assembly No. 32, Order of Rainbow for Girls, was held Wednesday evening at the K. of P. hall with Miss Nancy Gutchall, worthy advisor, presiding. Miss Evelyn Beemer reported on the hay ride held Oct. 15.

Plans were made for a square dance to be held in November. The next meeting will be an initiation, Nov. 22 at the K. of P. hall.

BIBLE GROUP

The Dorcas Bible Club met at the home of Lowell B. Hamilton, 520 Clifton Blvd. Wednesday evening. Mrs. C. E. Evans, was present as a guest. Mrs. Sam Burrows lead the lesson from the third chapter of the Book of Luke, and Mrs. Jack Town lead the devotional period using the story of the "Good Samaritan" as her theme. The next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. Jack Town.

Dainty Flower Decorations Are Practical

By ELEANOR ROSS

Special occasions, such as an engagement party, offer the ingenious a fine opportunity to turn their talents to good account when doing the decorations. No need to splurge, for a beautiful table does not have to be the result of a big expenditure for either food or flowers. It is good taste and originality that counts.

For an engagement announcement party what better theme than hearts and flowers, done according to your interpretation of this sweet theme? Some of the smartest and most successful table decorations use old-fashioned bouquets of fragrant roses in a pretty frame of metallic lace that suggests the nosegay of yesterycar. Figures of dainty little ceramic doves carrying nosegays of mimosa or marigolds in their bills carry out the romantic theme most suitably.

CUPID SILHOUETTES

A profusion of Cupid silhouettes and entwined hearts will also do their romantic bit to create the desired setting and sentiment. As for the table flowers themselves, sweetpeas in white and the soft pink and mauve pastel shades combined with deeper tones of the same hue make a colorful arrangement.

A good notion to copy is that of a florist who uses bird cages as a natural background for bouquets of marigolds, purple anemones and flowering yellow forsythia with figurines of lovebirds perched realistically among the gay blossoms. The cages lend themselves, of course, to all sorts of color schemes and embellishments, but the best jobs are toned down, leaving the beauty and color to the flowers.

All this doesn't call for a big out-lay for flowers. Beautiful blossoms never look well if they are overdone anyhow. When flowers are just crammed into a container they cannot breathe and literally stifle.

Ice cream is always good. Topped with a rich thick sauce, crowned with a ring of fruit, piled atop cakes and pies or served alone by heaping dishfuls, versatile ice cream is a real flavor treat.

For something new in ice cream enjoyment, try Orange Cake a la Mode. This easy-to-prepare hot milk sponge cake is delicately flavored with orange. A topping of ice cream and orange sections makes it a master production both in eye appeal and taste appeal.

Orange Cake a la Mode

1 orange cake
1 quart vanilla ice cream

Make orange cake, bake and cool. Pile ice cream atop and garnish with orange sections or diced oranges. Cut into serving squares. Serves 6 to 8.

Orange Cake

3 eggs, separated
1 cup sugar
1½ cups sifted, all-purpose fl
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
¼ cup orange jucie
1 tablespoon lemon juice
3 tablespoons butter, melted
½ cup milk, hot

Beat egg yolks until light gradually add sugar, beating mixture thoroughly after each addition. Sift together flour, salt and baking powder and fold into egg yolk mixture. Add grated orange rind, orange and lemon juices and blend. Combine butter and milk and add to mixture, beating until thoroughly blended. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into a 9x9x2", buttered square cake pan, lined with wax paper. Bake in a moderate oven, 325 degrees F., for 40 minutes, until lightly browned. Cool.

Association Has Dinner

Halloween appointments were used when the Prospect park association held its monthly covered dish dinner and social meeting at the park, Wednesday evening. Fifty members were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Stanley and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Daugherty were chairmen of the affair. Bridge prizes were won by Mrs. Roy Vaughn and Byron Crider. Pinochle prizes went to Mrs. Richard Vaughn and J. W. Peyton. The next meeting will be held Nov. 16 with Mr. and Mrs. George Stuhldreher and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hollingsworth in charge.

Power Case Review Set For Today

Before Appellate Jurists In Lima

BUCYRUS — The Third District Court of Appeals from Lima was scheduled to review here today five cases, including the controversial Galion power issue, which has been in Common Pleas court here for a year.

The appellate court will hear arguments concerning the injunction granted against the city of Galion to prevent the Ohio Public Service company from furnishing power for two Galion industries until a referendum vote on the franchise issue is held.

Other cases scheduled for review by the visiting three-judge court include a divorce granted Zoe E. Phillips from Gerald Phillips; a verdict for the defendant, Fern Elizabeth Aurand, in the $16,104 action for damages brought against her by Mrs. Lena Deter of Galion as the result of an auto accident.

A fourth case being appealed is the $251 judgment awarded Rollo C. Smith, now deceased, in his action for wrongful conversion of a soybean crop with Carl Kaler as defendant.

The remaining case is an appeal filed by Elger J. Pfleiderer in his action against the Aetna Insurance company. Pfleiderer failed in his efforts to recover $390 damages on his policy with the company for injuries to a carload of livestock.

Street Dance Set At Ashland Party

ASHLAND — Free street dancing is scheduled to follow Ashland's annual Halloween parade Friday, Oct. 28 in the downtown district when cash prizes will be awarded the best individual costumes and non - commercial floats.

Ashland Jay-Cees, sponsors of the Halloween event, announce round and square dances will be featured at the street dance following the parade.

American Legion band will provide a band concert during the evening and balloons will be released.

Area Newcomers

GALION — City hospital births: a son, born Tuesday afternoon to Mr. and Mrs. Austin Beal of Lexington; R. D. 2; a daughter, born Tuesday evening to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rice, of Galion, R. D. 3.

★

GALION — Announcements have been received here of the birth of a daughter, named Ruth Louise, to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lindley of Fair Lawn, N. J. The baby is the second child of the couple, and it was born Oct. 6 in the Patterson General hospital, N. J. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Lindley of Galion. The Arthur Lindleys ar former Mansfield residents.

ELYRIA SEWAGE DISPOSAL WORKS—A sewage treatment plant can be a good neighbor. Modern methods keep odors to a minimum. Elyria's sewage disposal works is a municipal ornament as well as an asset. The sewage is pumped to the settling tanks and then runs through the various treatments by gravity. The glass is not a conservatory; it covers the sludge drying beds.

Plymouth Juniors Sponsor Bake Sale

PLYMOUTH—The junior class of Plymouth high school is sponsoring a bake sale, Saturday at 10 a. m., in the Cashman Shoe store.

The class is raising money for the Junior-Senior banquet and also for their trip to Washington.

Quits Dec. 1

BUCYRUS — The resignation of W. Bryan Davis as office manager and assistant manager of the Crawford County Farm Bureau Cooperative here will become effective Dec. 1 when Davis will take over the managership of the Lorain County Farm Bureau Cooperative at Elyria, Eldon Zuercher, local co-op manager, announced today.

Cubs At Bucyrus Honor 2 Guests

BUCYRUS — C. G. Wheeldon of Marion, Boy Scout executive of the Harding area, and John Brewer of Bucyrus, Boy Scout field representative, were honored guests at an outdoor party held this week at Aumiller park here by members of Cub Pack 119.

About 75 Cubs, parents and leaders were present for a masquerade party and wiener roast. Prizes were awarded to Harry Marquart and Glen Achtermann.

Italy is extremely short of fuel and mineral resources. Before World War II, this country imported more than five times as much coal and nearly 120 times as much crude oil as it produced.

Plan Parade In Plymouth

PLYMOUTH — A community Halloween party will be held here on Monday evening, Oct. 31. Persons living in the village and surrounding territory are invited to participate in the parade.

Supt. G. E. Dennis heads the parade committee. Paraders will march to the high school building from the square. Costumes will be judges there and prizes awarded ones showing the most originality and beauty.

In addition to the prizes given, cider and doughnuts will be served everyone. There will be entertainment for all, officials promise.

Support is being given by local merchants and donations received from American Legion Post, Community club, Plymouth Association of Commerce and Volunteer Firemen.

There are 6,000,000 radio receiving sets in Japan.

GETS $1,000 VERDICT

BUCYRUS — After deliberating approximately one and one-half hours, Crawford Pleas court jury here Tuesday returned a verdict for $1,000 in favor of Russell H. Ufferman, Bucyrus, in his $10,000 traffic injury damage suit brought against Gordon H. Roark of near Tiro.

Girl Carries Pepper In Her Shoes, Murder In Her Heart

MARSHFIELD, Mo. — (UP)— Mary Margaret Evans, an attractive, though bruised, telephone girl, sat in jail today charged with the attempted sleeping tablet murder of the wife of her lover.

Her intended victim, Mrs. Rex Rainey, 42, wife of a local undertaker, was recovering in a hospital from injuries received in defending herself from the 31-year-old Miss Evans.

The shapely Miss Evans admitted to police that she came 25 miles from Springfield, Mo., armed with a stomach pump, chloroform, sleeping tablets a box of red pepper, a flashlight, rubber gloves and a toy pistol intending to commit a "perfect crime."

She explained her motive as the "climax of a five year love affair with Mrs. Rainey's husband."

She put the red pepper in her shoes, she said, because she read once that would prevent bloodhounds from trailing her.

She said she planned to chloroform Mrs. Rainey and use the stomach pump to administer a solution of sleeping tablets and water while the victim was unconscious.

Mrs. Rainey was alone and sleeping in an apartment of the undertaking establishment when the younger woman placed a wad of chloroform-saturated cotton under her nose, Miss Evans told police.

The undertaker's wife awoke and started fighting. Although she was beaten on the head with a flashlight and the toy pistol, she seized Miss Evans' wrist, bit her hand and tore a rubber glove from three fingers, fracturing one finger.

The apartment was left a shambles.

Kicker Finds It's Mistake

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (UP) — Here is what happened when one middle-aged man thought he was as young as the football season and kicked a small cardboard box he spotted on the sidewalk.

(1) His shoe came off with the kick.

(2) He had to hop on one foot to retrieve it.

(3) In bending over his suspender buttons popped.

(4) His trousers slipped to his ankles.

Sales Tax Receipts Show $11,000 Drop

Richland county prepaid sales tax receipt sales for the week ended Oct. 8, amounted to $23,357, State Treasurer Don H Ebright announced today This is a drop of nearly $11,000 from the $34,154, collected during the corresponding week in 1948

Total Richland county collections since July 1, 1949, are $377,048, about $72,000 under the $449,190, collected during the corresponding period last year.

Farm Boys Get Degrees

Fifty-eight Green Hand and 36 Chapter Farmer degrees were awarded to members of the Future Farmers of America at a meeting at Lucas Wednesday night.

Attending the meeting, held as a part of National Future Farmers of America week activities, were 115 boys from the vocational agricultural departments of Lucas, Butler, Lexington, and Union schools

The Green Hand degree was conferred on boys who are in their first year of work and was awarded by the Butler chapter. Officers of the Lucas chapter conferred the Chapter Farmer degree, given to advanced students.

Guests at the meeting included William Bierly, of Butler, who was awarded the Third, or State Farmer, degree at Columbus last spring; Richard Gramly, of Union, who received the Fourth, or American Farmer, degree at Kansas City several years ago; and E. C. Ross, of Lexington, who received the Green Hand pin in 1928.

Following the ritual work, movies were shown and refreshments served by the Lucas Future Homemakers of America.

Editor Predicts Rain By Engines

AMARILLO, Tex. — (UP) — Wes Izzard, editor of the Amarillo Daily News, has his own system of rain forecasting.

Any time he can lie in bed at his home and hear Santa Fe switch engines, he forecasts rain.

"That means the wind is in the east, and when the wind is in the east for any appreciable time, it's going to rain," Izzard explained to readers of his daily column, "From A to Izzard."

The system is not infallible, but Izzard claims a 92 per cent accuracy record.

Edward Rose is believed to have been the first American to take up permanent residence in the Big Horn Basin in Wyoming.

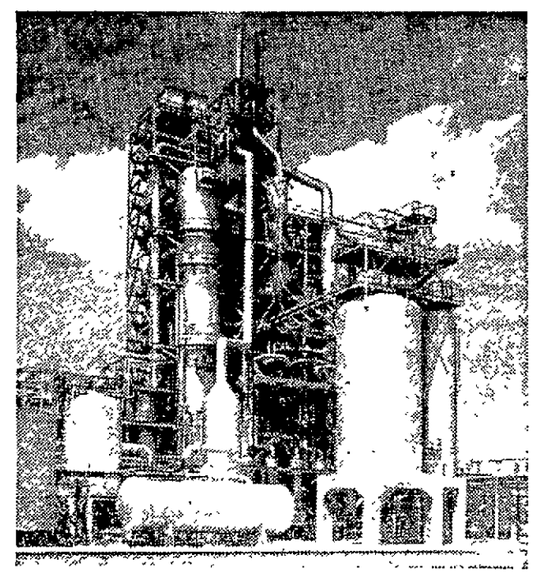
Aren't you claiming a lot for a gasoline at the price of "regular"?
Yes... and here's one reason WHY


Marathon Cat Gasoline is made possible by modern Catalytic cracking units like the one pictured above. This new multi-million-dollar Marathon "cat cracker" is the most modern, most efficient ever built. The simple fact is that it gets more gasoline power out of every barrel of crude oil than was ever before thought possible.

MAKE THIS TEST Prove it to yourself When your tank's nearly empty, fill up with Marathon Cat. Get out on the road. Slow down to the speed where you generally have to shift into second. Leave it in high. Feel your car purr along without a stutter Now, jam your foot down hard and feel it take off. It's a new experience! When are you going to try it?

Claims Truman's Expense Fund Is Raw and Outrageous Graft

NEW YORK—President Truman's $50,000 tax-free raise in pay, thinly disguised as an expense allowance, is a plain fraud. He already had an expense allowance of $40,000 for which he did not have to render the same sort of account that the treasury requires of citizens and beyond that there is an appropriation of $1,300,000 for the expenses of his office, including "entertainment."

The Trumans are not lavish entertainers and such parties as they have given have not been extravagant nor expensive. That could be to their credit, for, after all, the people pay for these official shows. If this fact reflected economy and a saving to the citizen the people might applaud the Trumans for lightening the load if only to the extent of a few dollars.

That would be in the frugal tradition of Calvin Coolidge. But, while the Trumans are as stingy as Coolidge, the $50,000 grab, amounting to a tax-exempt gift of $200,000 wrung from the people's pay-envelopes in four years, is a dramatic violation of the spirit of Mr. Coolidge, who was no more extravagant with government money than with his own.

An item under a Washington dateline says that for the second year in succession the "formal social season" of the White House has been cancelled ostensibly because the White House is still torn apart. That, of course, is a pretext. There are plenty of other quarters in which the Trumans could conduct the "formal social season," but if Mr. Truman isn't entertaining he won't be needing the $50,000 this year.

Even if he were entertaining to the full extent of the "formal social season" he would not have to take the strap off that bundle of graft, because he still could charge it to the big appropriation.

There is not the slightest evidence that he has any other intention than to knock down the whole $200,000, as a jackpot for his future and for his heirs.

As to his daughter's financial future, Mr. Truman is now being delivered from cares and responsibilities by Democratic organizations along the route of her travels as a singer. Miss Truman's voice is by no means the best in the concert trade, but the Democrats turn out loyally, as a compliment, or perhaps say tribute, to the head of the party. Her income will be about $100,000 this year.

★

NOW that the world is in a fix and not even the British court can afford to spend money on entertainment in the old manner nor, under rationing, even to scuffle up little chips of bacon, olives and peanut butter for appetizers, there is no excuse for the pretense that the President of the United States needs a special $50,000 social allowance subject to no accounting. Moreover, he isn't even pretending to entertain and, still further, if and when he does spend some money on social expenses, there is ample provision in other appropriations.

This $50,000 a year, or $200,000 for the four years, immune from the taxes that the rest of us have to pay on our incomes, is a raw, outrageous, defiant graft and should be repealed.

It can be repealed without embarrassment under the Constitution for the very reason that it is disguised as an expense allowance. The Constitution says the President's pay shall not be reduced during a term of office, but the Democratic Truman Congress outsmarted him and itself by adopting the lying pretext that this was an expense allowance.

We can raise or lower the President's expense allowance at will. And even if we do decide to let it stand we can still add a proviso that he shall prove how he spent it just as any other citizen would have to do.

Bitter Attacks By Reds' Lawyers On Medina Draw Fire From Writer

A reporter's job calls upon him to witness some sickening sights. But in the 25 years behind the typewriter I have seen nothing more dirty and disgusting than the conduct of the lawyers for the 11 convicted communists. Mere contempt of court does not describe the actions of these misnamed "officers of the court."

They shrieked; they yelled; they foully attacked the integrity of a great judge every day for nine months . . . But far more than their slanders on the Federal Bench, their conduct was an attack on their own great profession. I do not mind arrogance; I am arrogant myself. But to hear hysterical lawyers heaping personal abuse on a judge who gave us all a great lesson in patience and dignity is more than contempt of court. It is a contempt of the American people and all American institutions.

It is one thing to attack the bench and another to try to drag its robes through the mud of a gutter fight. In my opinion, the lawyers Isserman, Gladstein, Sacher and McCabe acted like hooligans.

It is time for the Bar Ass'n to speak up for the rights of the American people. Utilizing that same free speech of which Harry Sacher, Richard Gladstein, Abraham Isserman, and Louis McCabe ranted and raved, I wish to exercise mine.

I believe that these so-called lawyers should be disbarred and kicked from the American court rooms forever. At the very same time that they are kicked into jail.

★

Like all well-disciplined armies, native communists are prepared for retreat. It's simply a military maneuver . . . In his book, "Problems of Leninism," author Stalin put it this way: "Tactics may have to be changed many times in a period of a given stage of the revolution, according to the ebb and flow, rise and fall of the revolution. We must maneuver with the reserve calculated to effect a correct retreat when the enemy is strong, when the retreat is inevitable, when the disadvantages of engaging in a battle forced upon us by the enemy are obvious, when retreat is the only way under the given alignment of forces to ward off a blow from the vanguard and keep the reserve intact."

Incidentally, this column is gratified to see that the U. S. Gov't's evidence against the eleven convicted communists included the Stalin book mentioned above.

A long time ago, the col'm sounded a warning that this book was Stalin's "Mein Kampf," and we frequently quoted from it in an effort to enlighten the American people.

In May, 1929, Stalin informed U. S. communist delegates to the commintern: "You must forge real revolutionary cadres and leaders of the proletariat who will be capable of leading millions of AMERICAN workers toward the revolutionary class wars."

The only surprising factor about the conviction of the U. U. Reds is that it took the government so long to put them on trial, because native communists never made a secret of their violent aims.

William Z. Foster, the U. S. Red chief (who escaped trial by pleading illness but who is well enough to attend the B'way shows), brazenly admitted this in his book, "Toward a Soviet America."

Woman, 27, Held In Burglary

Captured Inside Auto Supply Store

Burglary of two Mansfield business places last night resulted in the jailing of three suspects, one of whom was apprehended in the Auto Supply company, 126 North Franklin avenue, and the theft of $65 in silver from Jim's cafe, 146 East Fifth street.

Lt. Howard Dickson and Patrolmen Richard Hildebrand leading a corps of 10 city police, arrested a 27-year-old East Fourth street woman in the Auto Supply company at 11:26 p. m. Police said they received a "tip" that someone had entered the place.

Later police apprehended a 40-year-old North Main street man and a 26-year-old East Sixth street man, known associates of the young woman. All three were held in city jail today for investigation.

Officers said entrance was gained by breaking out a plate glass window in a south door. Police said they found blood on the broken glass but that the young woman, found in the store, was not cut. The "tipster" said more than one person had entered the store.

Burglary of Jim's cafe was discovered at 5 a. m. today by James S. Petroff, 64 Harker street, who found the cash register and other drawers ransacked when he arrived to open the cafe for business.

Police said ten $1 bills were found scattered on the ground under a window through which entrance was gained. Petroff said the missing money included $10 in silver dollars and $55 in change.

Officers said entrance was gained by prying loose a screen in the window and breaking out the glass.

A 19-year-old Mansfield youth arrested yesterday in connection with the burglary of Knapp's Barber shop, Oct. 8, was released when the owner decline to file charges against the youth.

Cash totaling $85 was taken from the store. Entry was gained sometime during the night by breaking a window on the north side of the building.

Vandals Break 20 Windows At Armory

A wave of broken window reports continued to roll into the police department today with the total standing at 20 windows broken at a public building, one at a private home and a broken car window.

Reno Cicolani, 103 Helen avenue, reported to police yesterday that vandals had broken 20 windows in the Armory on Ashland road Wednesday night. Cost of replacing the windows, Cicolani said, would be $50. Cicolani asked police to keep a nightly watch on the building.

At 6:10 a. m. today, Robert Mapes of Mt. Vernon, reported to police he found a front window broken in his car, parked at 80 North Walnut street. Mapes said he parked the car there at 5:45 p. m. yesterday.

Mrs. Mable Hunter, 140 North Weldon avenue, reported at 6:20 p. m. yesterday that a front window of her home was broken by a stone.

Ohio Manufacturers Elect Mansfielder

George L. Draffan, president of the Ohio Brass company, was elected as one of the vice presidents of the Ohio Manufacturers association for the coming year last night.

Draffan was elected at the association's annual meeting held at Granville last night.

EARLY SNOWFALL—A visitor to Mt. Laguna Recreation area, San Diego, Calif., enjoys unprecedented October snowfall as he hikes across white-blanketed field. Snow measured 10 inches at some mountain points as drifts blocked roads. Temperatures as low as 25 degrees and winds up to 85 miles an hour were recorded in unseasonal weather.

Runs From OSR Farm

13th Inmate Flees In Three Weeks

The 13th Mansfield reformatory inmate to escape from the farm in the past three weeks made a successful dash for freedom late yesterday afternoon while on a corn husking detail on the institution farm.

Acting Superintendent George J. Allarding identified the runaway as James Whalen, 20, of Summit county.

Allarding said the youth suddenly dashed into the woods on the North Main street road farm and disappeared. A posse of OSR officials searched the area until after dark but were unsuccessful in apprehending the youth.

Whalen was received July 1 to serve one to 20 years for operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

Eight of the 13 who have escaped have been recaptured, Allarding said.

G. Tseronis Dies At 66

George Tseronis, 66, of 133 Arthur avenue, died Thursday afternoon at People's hospital following a six-week illness.

He was born Jan. 3, 1883, in Geraki Sparta, Greece, coming to this country 34 years ago. For the past 11 years he has resided in Mansfield and was employed at the Park Soda Bar.

Surviving are one son, Peter, of Greece; one daughter, Mrs. Nickolas G. Giovas of Mansfield, with whom he lived, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 1 p. m. at the Greek Orthodox church, of which he was a member, by Rev. Tzanos Gougoutas. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

The body will remain at the Giovas home, 133 Arthur avenue, until Saturday noon. Arrangements are in charge of the Wappner Funeral home.

Oct. 28 Party Set By Farmers Group

The Farmers Harvest Picnic group will hold a Halloween party at Prospect park at 8 p. m. Friday, Oct. 28.

Each family planning to attend the party should bring a pumpkin pie and table service. Doughnuts, cider, and coffee will be furnished by the committee.

Those wishing to come masked may do so.

Mild Weather Mars Duck Season Opener

Ohio hunters viewed the mild weather with distaste today as the 1949 duck season got under way at noon.

Most residents welcomed the continued warm spell, but the nimrods constantly searched the sky for some sign of rain and cold—weather which would drive the ducks and geese south.

Flights coming into local waters for food and rest on their way to the wintering grounds have been few and probably will make a frenzied last-minute rush once cold weather strikes.

Mansfield sporting goods stores reported brisk sales of arms and ammunition and that duck hunters promised to be plentiful. Postmaster Curtis L. Ford, however, said only 112 migratory waterfowl stamps had been sold by 9 a. m. today.

Beginning tomorrow morning, shooting hours will be from one-half hour before sunrise to one hour before sunset, Sundays excluded.

The daily bag limit is four ducks, possession limit eight, and four geese may be taken. Of these, two may be Canada geese, two may be white-fronted geese, or one of each. The bag limit on coot has been cut from 15 to 10.

Hunters are reminded that automatic or pump shotguns capable of holding more than three shells must be plugged, and the plug must be placed in such a manner that the gun must be disassembled to remove it.

The season will close Nov. 29.

Detention Plan Hit

Too Near Jail, Board Protests

Opposition to placing of a juvenile detention home close to adult jail quarters, as planned in the proposed courthouse annex, was expressed last night by the Richland County Board of Public assistance.

The group, headed by Vernon Lawrence and composed of representatives of business, industry, labor and the professions, passed a resolution approving the plan for building an addition to the courthouse but opposing the inclusion of juvenile detention quarters in the annex.

A proposal for issuing $300,000 worth of bonds to finance the annex will be placed before voters of the county Nov. 8.

The board of public assistance was appointed several years ago by Probate Judge Stuart H. Creamer as an advisory group to the department of aid to dependent children. It has since expanded and become self-perpetuating.

It's meeting last night was held in the chamber of commerce assembly room, Farmers Bank Building. The resolution was addressed to the county commissioners, who offered the bond issue proposal late in the summer.

Plan Graveside Rites For Infant

Graveside services for the still-born daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ward, 116 Touby court, will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday at the Mansfield cemetery. The child was born at the General hospital last night.

Besides the parents, survivors include: grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Clark and Frank Ward, all of Austin, Tex.

Arrangements are in charge of the Geiger funeral home.

REMINDER—

City Fireman Howard Remy, who was married recently, returned to Central fire station yesterday and was presented a gift by fellow firemen. He spent 10 minutes unwrapping a very large box to find an electric alarm clock given to him so he "wouldn't call the station and say he would be late for work in the morning."

IT WORKED—

Paul M. Auxter, Mansfield automobile dealer, doesn't exactly recommend using an ordinary table-fork to get into a locked car, but he knows today that the system does work. Last night he had dinner in one of the downtown restaurants, and when he tried to unlock his car, parked just outside, he found the lock jammed. The restaurant proprietor, noting his predicament, came to the rescue with a table fork which they used to lift the inside handle on the door, and unlock the car.

Dies After Long Illness

Mrs. Rhea I. Duckworth, 51, wife of Wilson Duckworth, died early today at her home, 31 West Arch street, following an extended illness.

Mrs. Duckworth was born May 6, 1898 at Ashland, coming to Mansfield to make her home 26 years ago. She was a member of the Main Street Evangelical UB church and took an active part in all its organizations. She was also a member of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Surviving besides her husband are two sons, Gordon Duckworth and Rev. Philip Duckworth, both of Mansfield; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McKibben of Mansfield; four brothers, Clifford McKibben of Pasadena, Calif., Howard of Hayesville, Harry of Utica, N. Y. and Ted of Elyria; five sisters, Mrs. Morris Fackler of Shelby, Mrs. Claude Oliver of Atlanta, Ga., Mrs. Robert Keith and Mrs. Robert Culler both of Mansfield and Mrs. Ronald Brownell of Utica, N. Y.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Monday at the Main Street church, with its pastor, Rev. Willard J. Shawk, officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the Wappner funeral home until noon Monday.

Bennett Child Dies At 6 Months

Patricia Ann Bennett, six-month-old daughter of Mr. and and Mrs. Orville E. Bennett, 192 Western avenue, died this morning at General hospital following a three-weeks illness.

She was born April 19, 1949 in Akron.

Surviving are the parents, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Whitmire of Mansfield, and Mrs. Nellie Bennett of Lucas.

The body was removed to the Wappner Funeral home where services will be conducted Saturday at 1 p. m. by Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell, pastor of First Lutheran church. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Building Program Stalled

Funds Gone, Voters Told

By ROBERT SCHWEITZ

Madison township school officials last night told about 150 disgruntled Woodville residents rising building costs prevented the construction of a new school in their community.

Then the school officials proposed that a new $240,000 bond issue be voted to finance construction of a Woodville school.

The Woodville Community club, headed by Robert Day, met at East Mansfield school to learn what happened to the $560,000 in bond issues they had voted in 1945 and 1948 for school construction.

The bonds were to pay for a new Woodville building, a new Lincoln Heights building, a four-room addition to East Mansfield school, and 12 rooms at Madison high.

The Lincoln Heights building and the East Mansfield addition are the only parts of the program which have been carried out. About $2,279 has been spent for repairs at the high school In all $462,191 of the bond money has been spent for construction. The remainder is slated for repairs and construction at the high school, Madison School Supt. Olan La Rue said at the meeting.

LaRue said the Madison board considered the Lincoln Heights, East Mansfield, and Madison high projects more urgent than the Woodville building.

$240,000 NEEDED

There are no funds now available to build a school at Woodville, so La Rue suggested that Madison voters pass another bond issue next fall for $240,000.

This will bring the indebtedness of the township for schools up to $735,103, or eight per cent of the tax duplicate. The present indebtedness of the township is about $520,000 for schools.

Ordinarily districts may be taxed only up to six per cnet of the duplicate, but an emergency measure passed by the state legislature permits them to go as high as eight per cent until the end of 1950 for school construction.

Only $215,103 could be raised by a bond issue now, La Rue said. But by next year, he explained, enough of the bonds will be retired so that the $240,000 figure can be gained.

Many who attended the meeting said they doubted that residents of Lincoln Heights and East Mansfield would support a bond issue for a school for Woodville. They said the two districts already had their schools and would not vote to increase their tax load to pay for a school for Woodville.

Lawrence Hughes, president of the Madison township school board, said he thought the entire township would support a bond issue for Woodville. Several board members concurred in this opinion.

County Supt. Boyd Robinson asked the meeting not to "mistrust" the other districts in the township. He said he feels that they would vote for the bond issue if it is proposed.

The present Woodville school was built [illegible] e the turn of the century and has been called "inadequate" by state school officials.

There are 202 pupils attending the school. All elementary grades but the third are housed there. Third grade pupils are transported to East Mansfield school because of the lack of room at Woodville.

The building has only four regular classrooms and a gymnasium converted to two classrooms.

Architect Charles J. Marr, New Philadelphia, who designed the Lincoln Heights and several other structures in the Madison township project, said he would look into the possibility of providing more adequate toilet facilities at the Woodville school than now exist until the new building is erected.

La Rue opened the meeting with the implication that yesterday's News-Journal sotry about the Woodville situaton was "an exaggeration, like a 20-times told story." He then admitted he hadn't read the newspaper account.

TB Commission Authorizes Purchase of New X-Ray Unit

A new $12,407.22 x-ray unit for the county tuberculosis sanatorium will be purchased from Westinghouse within the next few days, it was reported today.

The TB commission has given its chairman, Dr. John S. Hattery, authority to purchase the 300 mill - ampere radiographic and flouroscopic machine. It will be purchased outright because price quotations received have been rejected as "too costly", commission officials said.

Previously, bids were requested from five companies. Two companies, Westinghouse and Kelly-Koett company of Covington, Ky., replied immediately ut their bids were regarded as too costly. General Electric's bid was received yesterday and also was rejected as too high. No word was heard from the two others.

The commissioners then asked the advice of a board of x-ray experts and found some of the equipment advertised on the bids were not needed immediatly.

Meanwhile, the commissioners consulted Prosecuting Attorney Harold Lutz who advised they need not advertise bids, according to law, on equipment for the sanatorium.

Consequently, the commission asked Westainghouse and Kelly-Koett company for quotations on the x-ray unit alone. They accepted Westinghouse's bid though it was $147 higher than Kelly-Koett's because the specifications were more suitable and maintenance offered by a "home company" would be more ad-

Glattke Bares New State Penal Plan

Will Curb Potential Murderers

Prisoners To Get Various Tests

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Ohio is pushing a scientific penal reform designed to prevent release of potential killers from prison.

Arthur L. Glattke, former superintendent of Ohio State Reformatory at Mansfield, detailed the program today before the Federation of Women's clubs of Greater Cleveland. Glattke is chief of the state division of corrections.

Eventually, he said, every convicted criminal will be given the proper psychiatric and mental tests to determine his fitness to take his place in society — before his release from prison.

When this is done, Glattke said, the state will be a long way on its program of preventing such cases as "the Beaches, Hagerts, or others of similar stripe."

He referred to Harold Beach who was electrocuted in Ohio penitentiary last February for killing a Cleveland girl, and Henry Hagert, electrocuted in October, 1945, for the slaying of twin boys in Cleveland.

But, said Glattke, eventual success of the program still depends upon new laws, more facilities, more trained personnel — and more money.

At present, "screening" is done in some categories of prisoners before their release, the official said. It is hoped the program can be pushed to its ultimate aims, he added.

Glattke was for 14 years superintendent of the state reformatory at Mansfield before assuming his present post last Feb. 1.

"Let us always bear in mind," Glattke said, "very often the strength or weakness of any correctional system is reflected in the public interest and public opinion which the community expresses toward the problem."

He cited several cases which in recent years stirred interest in Cuyahoga county as well as the rest of the state.

"From some of these cases which involved murders by apparently psychopathic personalities, have come suggestions and ideas as to a future program in the expansion of our correctional system," he said.

He told the clubwomen that Ohio has a definite outline for its future program.

The plan includes a new reformatory and some units for psychopathic offenders, the latter to be built at Lima State hospital.

30 Mothers Have Charge of Strawbridge Play Next Week

Thirty mothers of Mansfield school children will take charge of the Edwin Strawbridge performances of "Robinson Crusoe" here next Monday and Tuesday. They will preside as hostesses and take tickets during each of the five presentations.

Mrs. F. E. Pittinger has been named chairman for the 9 a. m. performance Monday; Mrs. Edward Mattox, for the 1:30 p. m. performance and Mrs. Paul Stahl, for the show Monday at 7:30 p. m. All of these performances will be given in John Simpson junior high auditorium.

On Tuesday at Johnny Appleseed school, Mrs. C. H. Rupert will supervise the 9 a. m. performance and Mrs. Paul Old the show at 1:30 p. m. Each chairman will obtain five other mothers to assist her.

Tickets are now on sale at all elementary schools in the city. Parents and junior high pupils may also obtain tickets at these schools, according to Robert O. Hartmann, chairman of arrangements.

Presentation of "Robinson Crusoe" will mark the fifth time Strawbridge has brought his actors and dancers to Mansfield for the enjoyment of grade school children.

All classrooms of the city schools have been given briefing sheets, telling the story of the play as Strawbridge will present it here.

Fire Razes Car Garage

WHEELING, W. Va. — (AP) — A fire which followed a furnace explosion destroyed the Hopkins Motor company garage here today.

Fire Chief William McFadden estimated damage at $150,000. He said 15 new automobiles, 30 used cars and a half-dozen other vehicles left at the garage for repair were destroyed.

Workmen managed to save two other used automobiles and a boat on display in the garage.

McFadden said the fire started about 7 a. m. as Roy Carr, 38, was firing the furnace. Carr suffered burns of the face and hands as the furnace exploded, but he was not considered seriously hurt.

E. B. Hopkins, head of the company, fixed the loss to the building itself at $100,000. The three-story brick structure was almost leveled. Only the front wall remained standing.

Holiday Workers Must Have Social Security Cards

Persons planing to enter part time or seasonal employment during the coming holidays were urged today by Edward P. Blonston, manager of the Mansfield Social Security office, to obtain Social Security cards promptly.

"Frequently people who work for only a short time, especially during the Christmas holiday, think they do not need a Social Security number," he stated.

He pointed out that the length of the employment is not a deciding factor; that those who work in industry or trade must have an account number even if they work as little as an hour or two.

Housewives and others working in canneries or other seasonal occupations should obtain account numbers, he said. Persons who have lost their cards should have them replaced as soon as possible, he added.

"Workers should get only one number and use it for life. The number is used by the Social Security administration to identify the worker's wage account, upon which benefits are based at the time of retirement or death. Two or more numbers issued to the same person would result in confusion and possible loss of benefits," he added.

Mansfield office is located at 405 Richland Trust building and serves Richland, Ashland, Crawford, Knox and Morrow counties.

Thanks, Mister!

This is the kid who stood at the crossroads just a year ago in need of aid and understanding.

In one direction lay the crooked lane to Gangland and State's Prison.

But you helped start him on the other road—the straight path to Good Citizenship.

Red Feather dollars found a foster home for the kid, where for the first time he knew affection, security, intelligent guidance. It was a bargain buy. A criminal costs a lot more than that.

This year other kids need the same help. Remember all those youths when you're asked to give.

And remember the others, too—the aged, the ill, the handicapped, to whom your Red Feather dollars will bring healing and comfort and courage.

Thanks, Mister! Thanks for what you did. Thanks for doing it again.

THIS YEAR -- THE SAME IS LESS

If every presently employed person gave exactly the same contribution as last year YOUR COMMUNITY CHEST WOULD FAIL TO REACH ITS GOAL OF $141,663.00. This is an ACTUAL need of 15½% greater than last year. Give—and give enough for the entire year . . . give where you work or to the "Red Feather Worker" who calls at your home.

BUDGET YOUR PLEDGE . . . USE THE DELAYED PAYMENT PLAN

Make your pledge now . . . pay later in small amounts spread over several months or even a year. Your Community Chest works the year 'round. Now you can pledge more yet pay more easily. You'll hardly miss the difference! Be ready when your doorbell is rung. And thanks for being a true neighbor!

Creek Yields Ancient Bones

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz — (UP) — The white sandstone walls of Slate Creek, southwest of Prescott, have yielded a number of prehistoric bones

Included in the find were the remains of a small animal of the camel species dating back several million years

The bones were uncovered by a paleontological expedition sponsored by the Museum of Northern Arizona of Flagstaff and the Arizona State Museum at Tucson

In addition to the camel, a primitive horse and a dog like animal, dating back more than a million years were discovered

Directors of the expedition said they believed the discoveries would help date strata formed centuries ago on the Colorado plateau

Army's Red Tape Keeps Vet Involved In Monetary Mixup

BALTIMORE — (AP) — When he won a field commission in France in 1944, Albert Miller raised the allotment he was sending home to $170 a month.

The army got it mixed up and made it $270 a month. Miller continued to get the difference between $170 and his regular pay.

The lieutenant found out about the mixup while he was convalescing from a wound suffered at St. Lo. He wrote army fiscal officials a letter or two and was told that things would be straightened out.

But the army continued to send $270 a month back to Baltimore.

That went on for 23 months. When Miller was handed his discharge papers, he was also handed a communication which said, in effect:

"You owe us $2,300. Please remit."

Miller paid, and received a receipt.

He dismissed the whole thing from his mind.

Then early last year, he received a letter from the army.

"It said, in effect:

"You owe us $2,300. Please remit."

With it was a self-addressed return envelope.

A series of letters was exchanged. After many months the army wrote that it had found its mistake and that Miller's financial record was straight.

Miller carefully put the whole file away for a possible contingency. It came a day or two ago. In the mail was a letter from the army. It said, in effect:

"You owe us $2,300. Please remit in enclosed envelope."

Easier Life

NEW YORK — (INS) — There's a project afoot to make life easier on the romantic isle of Tahiti. Westinghouse Electric corporation reports inquiries about establishment of a coin-operated community laundry there.

Red Feather Ticklers . . . .

"And the next question is, 'Did you give to the Community Chest this year?'"

Broadcasts For Freedom

HOUSTON, Tex. — (AP) — A prisoner has been making secret radio broadcasts from the Mississippi state prison for four years, a federal communications official reported Thursday.

Joe McKinney, regional FCC manager, said three radio transmitters were located in the state prison at Parchman, Miss.

He said the transmitters were operated by William Frank Moody, serving a 50-year sentence for armed robbery.

For the past six months Moody had been using three transmitters in a campaign to secure an "indefinite suspension of sentence" from Mississippi Governor Fielding L. Wright.

One of Moody's transmitters was located in a prison guard house and was accessible to Moody throughout the day, as a trusty on duty there.

Two transmitters were hidden in his prison bunk.

At the receiving end were persons at Pascagoula and Biloxi, Miss., who in turn relayed information to Moody's wife to help her pleas for Moody's pardon.

Tygers Battle Top-Ranked Massillon Tonight

Both Squads In Condition For Thriller

Thirty-six members of the Mansfield Senior high school football squad left this morning to keep an all-important date in the Washington high school football stadium in Massillon.

Fc tenight the high-ranked Tygers will battle the Washington high Tigers in the game of the year as far as the present schoolboy grid season is concerned. The Washington gridders are rated as Ohio's best with Senior high but a few notches down the ladder.

An endless succession of pep rallies this week has left the Tygers in the proper frame of mind to pull a big upset. Seventeen times the two football powers have met on the gridiron but never has Mansfield come out on top. Three ties represent the only "moral" victories in the series which began in 1909.

Both teams are in tip-top physical condition for the clash, although Jim Schumacher, 190 - pound Massillon tackle, may not be in at the opening kickoff. His spot will probably be taken by Art Duke, an 181-pound senior.

Mansfield's biggest bulge seems to be in the aerial department. The passing combination of Don Cline and Lanky Ed Demyan is perhaps the Tygers' best weapon to spring an upset. Cline has completed five TD passes in five games — and to four different receivers. However, Demyan is the top target with 14 catches.

COGS IN ATTACK

Attack of the Washington high team is built around the crazy-legs running of Irvin Crable and the power drives of Big Clarence Johnson. Senior high counters with the super-speedy slashes of track ace, Tommy Tucker, and the thrusts of A. C. Jenkins.

More than 6,000 Mansfielders are expected to be in the Tiger stadium for tonight's kickoff.

The Tygers will wear their red jerseys and gold pants against Massillon tonight.

Traveling squad named yesterday by Mansfield Coach Augie Morningstar follows:

Ends — Demvan, Jack Bargahiser, Joe Diemer, John Fowler, Dave Guy, Jim Dawkins, Steve Henkel.

Tackles — Bob Busch, Tom Weaver, Jack Wise, John Ernsberger, Lorenzo Tolliver, Rich Shirkey, Jack Pierce.

Guards — Jim Miller, Howie Tipper, Phil Lindsay, Ronnie Williams, Gene Monastra, Bud Kent, Bob Rutan.

Centers — Walt Maurer, Gene Fidler.

Quarterbacks — Cline, Charles Marchant, Don Pesano.

Halfbacks — Tucker, Esker Jordan, John Bricker, Bob Ward, Clarence Bailey, Bud Montgomery, John Todd.

Fullbacks — Jenkins, Bill Stutz, John Petty.

Marlene Bauer Guns For Win

FORT SMITH, Ark. — (INS) — Young Marlene Bauer of Los Angeles will try to do today what her older sister Alice couldn't do yesterday—beat Mildred (Babe) Zaharias in the hardscrabble women's open golf tournament in Forth Smith.

Mrs. Zaharias gained the semifinals by ousting 21-year-old Alice, 2 and 1. The Babe went ahead to stay on the 12th hole by sinking a 25-foot putt. She was three-down, however, at the end of four holes.

Fifteen year old Marlene topped Natalie Bering of Decatur, Ill., 5 and 3, in the quarterfinals.

Schoolboy Grid Men Suspended

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Coach Bob Morgan today announced suspension of nine members of the Western Hills high school football squad for breaking training rules.

He said the student council suspended the players for staying at a sorority party until about 3 a. m. last Saturday morning. Names of the boys were not disclosed.

Sixth Bout Added To Fight Program

CLEVELAND — (AP) — A sixth eight-round boxing match has been added to the Tuesday night season opener at Cleveland arena.

Guillermo Giminez, South American lightweight champion, will face Texan Buddy Garcia. Cliff Hart of Syracuse, N. Y., originally matched with Garcia, will fight Irish Jimmy Cone of Kokomo, Ind., instead.

Midget Auto Driver Is Killed In Crash

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Ed Haddad, 37-year-old midget auto race driver, was killed last night in a race as 7,000 spectators watched.

Haddad, of Inglewood, was one of the southern California's top race car pilots. His car squeezed into the fence by another and rolled over three times. He died of a fractured skull.

Mansfielders Go 'Crazy' As Time Approaches For Massillon Clash

By GAYLORD HAKE

The second guessers are first guessing and the most envied bunch in town is the Tyger's coaching staff as Mansfield goes more than slightly crazy with the Massillon game almost here.

"Beat Massillon" appears oftener — and in more strange places than "Kilroy was Here" ever did — and if you don't understand talk like "They can't stop Jenkins" or "They can't catch Tucker" brother, you're from out of town.

Chalked on the big cannon in Central park is "Use this if necessary." Passerbys look and grin. No further explanation is necessary.

You can't take two steps in the down town area without "Beat Massillon" looming from a building, an automobile, the sidewalk, and even a black cocker spaniel pup was seen trotting nonchalantly down the street with a "Beat Massillon" sign hung on his side.

In the center of all of this wonderful madness is a rugged bunch of Mansfield High school youngsters who have proved to the folks they can play a lot of football.

The Tyger coaching staff, what a spot is in.

The second guessers can't wait until the game and the Saturday morning quarterbacks have been calling the turn all week on this one.

"We gotta score first. We gotta have some kind of a trick play and use it right off the bat," a fan says.

"If those kids score first, they'll win. But, if Massillon gets a couple touchdowns first, it'll be murder," he continues.

Another guy looks up unimpressed. "If they got a trick play that'll score, they'd better use it everytime, not just first," he replies.

Then a studious voice says: "Mansfield has gone to Massillon with supposedly better football teams, but they haven't been able to break jinx and win."

"In one game, about 10 years ago. A Mansfield boy had an open field for a touchdown that would have won the game. But, he tripped over his own feet — or slipped — anyway, Massillon went on to win by six points

"That's been a long time ago, but the guy still gets mad when anyone mentions it, and he still won't talk about it," the Tyger fan declared.

Primed and ready are a couple of trains that will carry some of Mansfield's invading hordes tonight.

And, the same trains will come back again. As the locomotive hits the home crossings its whistle will no doubt emit a defiant blast — if Mansfield won — a sound like the moan of a sick cow, if the unspeakable happens.

What about Saturday if Mansfield loses. It doesn't seem conceivable that the stores will open for the Saturday morning rush, or that people will go about their usual business and keep busy dodging cars as they try to cross at Central Park.

And, if Mansfield wins Well, if there are inhabitants on Mars, and they have a telescope pointed earthward, it will no doubt pick up a glimmer from the glow of satisfaction and pride that will swell upward like the mushroom of an atomic bomb blast.

Coach Gets Fine Gridiron Pact

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. —(UP) — Coach R. N. (Rube) McCray, today became the envy of college football coaches everywhere when he signed a renewed contract at the college of William and Mary that says he keep his job.

Dr John E. Pomfret, president of the college, said the contract "is to assure Mr. McCray a future with the college that is not dependent upon the number of games won or lost in his capacity as head football coach."

McKinley Rated Favorite In Cross Country Battle

The once-beaten Canton McKinley Pups are rated as the "team to beat" in the first championship competition of the Ohio Scholastic conference tomorrow morning when the league cross country meet is staged over the Coolridge course.

Twenty-eight runners from four of the six loop schools will race over the two-mile championship course. Trying to stop McKinley will be 'hinclads from Mansfield Senior high, Toledo Waite and Warren Harding. Massillon Washington and Alliance do not field cross country teams and hence will not be in the running.

McKinley opened the season with four straight victories but last Saturday fell before Akron North. Senior high also put together a four-game winning streak this season but then lost two in a row to Akron South and Cleveland Cathedral Latin.

PICKS SEVEN MEN

Coach Harry Mehock picked his seven - man team in time trials this week. The group includes Jim Hager, Jerry Gerrell, Paul Light, Duane Mellick, Wayne Maskey, Ken Berkey and Paul Plaut.

The first five runners from each school to cross the finish line will score points. Team with the lowest number of points wins in cross country. The meet will open at 11 a. m. with members of the Sons of Herman Horse club serving as officials.

Pitt 11 Fears Not Big Grid Powerhouses

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Football giants like Minnesota and Ohio State stand between Pitt's unbeaten team and a perfect season but they're not likely to have the Panthers licked before the kick off.

Seven of the 14 Pitt lettermen have been playing Big Nine teams and other Goliaths for the past three years. They won't be overawed by the big teams' reputations.

Pitt has been taking lickings from them for three years and the 1949 team should be able to profit by the experiences. The 16-7 Pitt victory over Northwestern this fall may have been the tip off.

Although Pittsburgh hasn't had an unbeaten and untied team since 1910, the more rabid fans are hoping for a repeat in 1949. In 1937, Pitt's last great team was tied by Fordham but not beaten.

"Actually," declared Frank Carver, assistant to athletic director Tom Hamilton, "There is nothing sensational about this Pitt resurgence This is the same team in the front ranks that lost so many games in 1947.

"Minnesota, Ohio State and other big teams are all the same. Names don't bother them."

Pitt defeated William and Mary 13-7, then whipped Northwestern 16-7, turned back West Virginia 20-7 and last week scrapped through with a 35-26 victory over Miami university (of Ohio.)

Pitt has an all-veteran backfield, sparked by Louis (Bimbo) Cecconi, 160-pound back from Donora, Pa.

The old men in the line are center Len Radnor. Plymouth, Pa., 185 pounds;. guard Bernie Barkhouskie, 195 pounds; Kulpmont, Pa.; tackle Nick Bolkovac, 210 pounds, Youngstown, O.; and Bob Plotz, 210 pound tackle from Martins Ferry, O.

City Leagues To Organize

An organization meeting for the coming winter's city basketball leagues will be held at 7.30 p. m. next Tuesday at the City Recreation department, it was announced by "Rec" head Stan Kamen.

Kamen said that league entry blanks and roster sheets are now available at the office and that all must be returned before Tuesday's meeting.

Plans call for three leagues, an A, B, and C circuit with six to eight teams in each league. Play will be at John Simpson and Senior high school gyms. Entry for the A league will be $40 per team and $30 for the B and C circuits Practice sessions will be set up at Tuesday's meeting and started the next week. League play will get under way in November.

Tygers-Tigers Top Ohio Grid Sked Tonight

By BOB CUBBEDGE

COLUMBUS — (INS) — One game — the Massillon-Mansfield struggle tonight — stands alone at the head of Ohio's weekend high school football schedule.

It'll be Tigers and Tygers all over the Massillon stadium field when the once-beaten boys from Mansfield attempt to put the stopper on undefeated Massillon's bid for a second straight mythical Ohio schoolboy championship.

Chances are, however, Massillon's Tigers will come out on top for the 10th straight time. They are rated number one throughout the State and are considered primed for their roughest encounter of the season.

Next best offering on the weekend menu probably will be the Hamilton -Springfield encounter.

Both teams sport four wins so far on the season, but Springfield also has gone down once.

The word is out that Springfield's Wildcats haven't yet forgotten a 61-12 pasting they took last year against the Big Blue.

A host of other teams, including Canton McKinley, Lakewood, Findlay, Zanesville, Cincinnati Purcell and Upper Arlington, risk five - game win-streaks in play tonight.

McKinley's Bulldogs take on Steubenville's crew, Lakewood battles Cleveland Collinwood, Findlay tangles with Marion Harding, Zanesville faces Cleveland Rhodes, Cincinnati Purcell tackles Lawrenceburg, and Arlington runs into Bexley.

Circleville goes after its 15th straight victory against Grove City while Wooster's unbeaten but tied Generals shoot for victory number five in six starts against Ashland.

SEEK SIXTH

The Railroaders of Willard, another team seeking its sixth straight triumph, also will be hunting revenge for a 32-0 defeat handed down last year by Norwalk in the Maple City tonight.

Other top games include the Toledo Libbey-Muskegon, Middletown-Lima Central, Lancaster-Newark, Tiffin-Fremont Ross, Toledo Waite-Toledo Devilbiss, Toronto - New Philadelphia clashes tonight and the Bellaire-Martins Ferry struggle tonorrow.

Minnesota, Kentucky On 'Bowl' Road; Gophers Battle Michigan In Standout

NEW YORK—(UP)—Minnesota's bulldozing giants of the north country and a potentially great Kentucky football team were favored today to sweep the road to major bowl bids with victories Saturday in the top collegiate games of the week.

Minnesota is a big favorite to plaster Michigan with its third straight defeat in a Big 10 showdown at Ann Arbor that will go a long way toward determining whether Bernie Bierman's burly Gophers can win the western conference championship and a subsequent trip to the Rose Bowl. Michigan hasn't dropped three in a row in any season since 1937

Kentucky, a five-game winner whose "poorest" afternoon resulted in a 19 to 0 victory over Louisiana State, was held at one touchdown over Southern Methodist in an intersectional game at Dallas Saturday night. Rated even earlier in the week, the point spread developed with the announcement that All-America Halfback Doak Walker of SMU, stricken with influenza, will not be able to play.

Unbeaten Notre Dame is idle this week but most of the other national contenders are in action with Army, California, Oklahoma, North Carolina and Cornell all favored to remain in the undefeated class.

The Cadets of West Point were such a prohibitive choice over Columbia no odds are being quoted. California was held at 22 points over Washington, Oklahoma at 20 over Nebraska, Cornell at 14 over Princeton and North Carolina at seven points over Louisiana State. North Carolina's shot at Louisiana State is a Saturday night game.

Rice and Texas, both undefeated inside the Southwest conference, square away at Texas in a conference game as significant as Minnesota's clash with Michigan is to the big 10. Texas, beaten by Oklahoma, was rated over Rice which rocked the conference a week ago by trouncing SMU.

By conferences around the nation these are the standouts:

Big 10 — second place Illinois was rated even at Purdue, Ohio State favored slightly at Wisconsin and Northwestern favored at Iowa. Indiana is host to Pittsburgh and was an underdog.

Pacific Coast — UCLA, like California undefeated in the league, was favored at Washington State, Southern California favored in a home game with Oregon and Stanford the choice at home against Oregon State. Idaho plays at Montana in a consolation match.

Southeastern — with unbeaten Kentucky at SMU, league interest settles on Tulane's "comeback" against Auburn at New Orleans with Tulane, humbled by Notre Dame, the favorite. Alabama, playing at home, was a big favorite over Mississippi State and Georgia Tech a decisive choice at Florida. Georgia plays a non-league game at Miami, Fla., Tennessee is host to Tennessee Tech and Vanderbilt tackles tough Arkansas of the Southwest conference.

Southern — the clouded title picture can't be clarified much with favored North Carolina playing outside the league at LSU. Duke meets Virginia Tech, Maryland plays at North Carolina State, Richmond at Davidson and William and Mary at Wake Forest on Saturday. Friday night, Furman moves to Citadel, Washington and Lee to George Washington. Duke, William and Mary, Maryland, Washington and Lee, Davidson and Citadel still are unbeaten inside the conference.

Southwest — Rice-Texas is the big one but Baylor also can pick up some ground in the league race as 14-point favorite at Texas A. and M. Baylor is the only other club unbeaten in conference play. Texas Christian was held over Mississippi in an intersectional game.

Big seven — Oklahoma and Missouri, who'll settle it on Nov. 12, both favorites, Oklahoma over Nebraska and Missouri over Iowa State, a conference darkhorse that held Illinois to a tie.

The football week end in the east opens tonight with Boston college playing Georgetown at Boston and Temple the choice over Rhode Island State at Philadelphia.

Pennsylvania was rated at one and one half points over Navy in a Saturday standout, Dartmouth by 13 at Harvard, Yale over Holy Cross at Yale. New York U. plays at Boston U., Villanova to Duquesne, Rutgers at Colgate and Syracuse at Fordham.

In the midwest's best clash of Independents, Michigan State battles Penn State of East Lansing, Mich.

Bellville Gridders Seek Fourth Straight

BELLVILLE— Bellville's Blue Jays will be gunning for their fourth straight victory here tonight when they entertain the Mt. Gilead high school football team.

The Jays dropped their first two contests before bouncing back to three wins.

Cuff Stuff . . . .

By Fred Tharp

PERHAPS IT'S SACRILEGE to write about aught but the Tygers' invasion of Tigertown tonight. . . . But, as usual, the Stuffer devotes Friday's piece to blowing smoke ring forecasts of what will happen in the way of triumphs on the college gridirons. . . . And picking the college results is plenty hard enough without trying to solve the Massillon-Mansfield riddle. . . . Almost everybody in town has an idea as to the outcome . . . We truly have no concrete notion on which of these two great teams will win. . . . Our only prediction is that both teams will be on the field and both wil. do the best to uphold the honor of their respective schools. . . . Could anyone ask for more than that from a group or groups of youngsters. . . . So with regret we leave the fascinating subject of the Tygers and Tigers. . . . The stogie prognostication business took a sharp surge for the better last week as 74 of 99 colleges followed the line of final results as prophesied in the "fishy" forecasting column. . . . There were 21 wrong guesses and four ties. . . . So for the season, the record stands at 302 right, 100 wrong and 10 ties. . . . Just about this time each week we foresee what will happen when Michigan takes to the gridiron. . . . We've tried four times and missed only four. . . . Tomorrow, the stogie says Minnesota will whip the Wolvermes (or could the smoke rings be a jinxing) . . . Here we go into that stogie session:

Two Dozen Ohio College Games Slated

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Ohio State's clash with Wisconsin isn't the only "make or break" tilt on this week end's college grid slate for Buckeye squads.

The Ohio teams have two dozen contests booked today and tomorrow, and with the Bucks out of town there are plenty of top-flight frays for the fans who stay home. The Bucks need a win at Wisconsin to keep their Rose Bowl hopes alive after last week's 27-0 loss to Minnesota.

Xavier's Musketeers, five-time winners and the state scoring leaders, toss their record on the block tonight at Louisville, Ky., against the once-defeated U of Louisville Cardinals who last week wrecked Akron by 62 to 6.

In other games today Rio Grande invades Salem, W Va., in quest of its first win in six starts, and Marshall visits John Carroll for a night engagement.

The rough and rugged mid-American conference holds Saturday's spotlight on the home front. Ohio University's unbeaten Bobcats tangle with Miami's defending champions at Oxford in the first 1949 league start for the latter crew, while Western Reserve and Cincinnati, each unbeaten in conference competition, meet in the Quee City.

The Ohio conference top game sends league-leading Muskingum against Wooster on the Scot field. The Muskies have won four straight and Wooster a pair in the conference.

The victory will take over undisputed lead of the conference since Ohio Wesleyan, the only other two - game winner, goes against DePauw's Tigers, who have dropped four straight this year, and nine of 11 to the Bishops, in a non-title fray.

Marietta and Wittenberg will meet in a contest between two of the state's "losingest' elevens. Between them they have won a single game and lost eight, Marietta taking the lone verdict by 14-7 over Rio Grande, the state's last placer with five straight defeats. The Marietta - Wittenberg rivalry started in 1892.

Other State-AA battles are Mount Union at Case at Denison Kent at Capital, Bowling Green at Baldwin-Wallace, Akron at Heidelberg, Ohio Wesleyan at Toledo, Findlay at Hiram, Ohio Northern at Bluffton, Mt. Union at Otterbein, Defiance at Detroit, Fort Wayne, Wilmington Delaware at Dayton, Capital at Toledo, Case at Tech, Cincinnati at Bucknell, Akron at Cincinnati, Kent at Cedarville, Western Reserve at Ohio U., Wilberforce at Tennessee State, Salem at Rio Grande, Huntington at Cedarville, Capital at Kenyon, Dayton at Youngstown, Denison at Oberlin, Wittenberg at Marietta, Muskingum at Wooster, Ohio Wesleyan at DePauw, Detroit Tech at Defiance, Ohio Northern at Bluffton, Akron at Mt. Union, Heidelberg at Findlay, Bowling Green at Baldwin-Wallace, Alliance at Steubenville, Louisville at Xavier, Carnegie Tech at Case, Toledo at Springfield, Marshall at John Carroll.

Plymouth Invades Clyde Gridiron

PLYMOUTH — Plymouth's bruised and scarred Pilgrims will attempt a comeback tonight when they invade the Clyde field for the fifth game of their football schedule.

Coach Dick McMullen hopes to have three of the injured first team members back in the playing for the fracas. Plymouth has been unable to score in its last three games.

HIGHLIGHTS on SPORTS

By Brandenburg Chevrolet

Jones and Smith at Interlachen.

The "Bonnie Scots" have always been counted among the greatest of golf enthusiasts.

They are golfers from away back and one of her brawniest sons, MacDonald Smith, came very close to capturing the National Open Golf Championship in July 1930 on the Interlachen Country Club's fairways. Mac finished second with a score of 289 for the 72 holes of the hottest tournament on record, but it was two strokes too many to win the crown. Bobby Jones won with a score of 287.

In the final stages of the match it was between Jones and MacDonald, the others in the cast, Horton Smith, Harry Cooper, Johnny Golden and Tommy Armour, had faded quietly in the wings. MacDonald made the greatest fight of his long years of playing, but it was not enough. The great Bobby provided the fireworks with a superb exhibition of a master's craftsmanship. At the 17th hole he used his trusty putter "Calamity Jane" to put his ball in the cup from a distance of 18 feet and repeated at the eighteenth with a thirty five foot putt!

For a "superb exhibition of master craftsmanship" come to Brandenburg's Service Department for a new motor installation by our skilled mechanics and your car will have the same power, smoothness and economy of a new car. Free estimates on all repair work.

Crippled State Plays at Wisconsin

2 Valuable Players Off Travel List

JANESVILLE, Wis.—(UP) A patched-up Ohio State university football squad was due here today enroute to Madison and tomorrow's game against the battling Badgers of Wisconsin.

The Buckeyes have two valuable men out of the picture with injuries and three more likely to see only limited service.

Left behind when the 35-man traveling squad pulled out from Union station in Columbus last night were defensive Back Vic Janowicz and Center Bob McCullough. Fullback Pete Perini and Center Jack Lininger went along, but Coach Wesley Fesler said taking them was strictly a gamble, since both players are still troubled by injuries. Perini has a bad leg and Lininger a pulled ankle tendon.

McCullough, Lininger's regular replacement, suffered a severe shoulder injury against Minnesota. Sophomores Tom Rath and Bob Heid made the trip here to replace him.

Completing the injured list was wingback Ray Hamilton, who Fesler said would be "at only about 80 per cent effectiveness" tomorrow, due to a pulled leg muscle he suffered in practice before the Minnesota game.

One bright spot in the picture was the return to the lineup of end Dick Schnittker, back in action for the first time since his knee was hurt in the Southern California game.

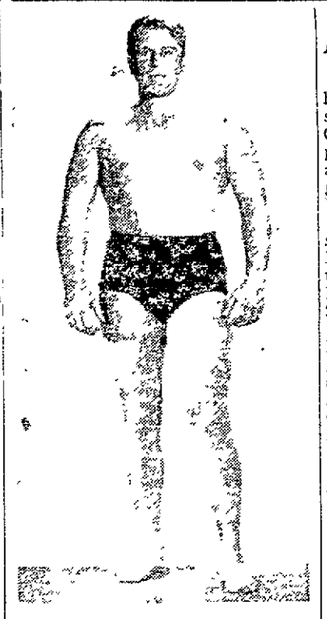
SAME STARTERS

Fesler's offensive backfield will be the one that started against Minnesota except that either Jerry Krall or Jimmy Clark may get the nod at tailback. Pandel Savic will be at quarter, Hamilton at the wing, and Curly Morrison at fullback.

With Janowicz out of the defensive lineup and Perini and Lininger on the questionable list, the set - up will be George "Bucky" Wertz and Heid as linebackers, Dick Widdoes and Billy Newell at the halves, and Clark at safety.

The Ohio State team will practice on a high school field here this afternoon and stay in a hotel here tonight.

The Buckeye junior varsity squad which accompanied the regulars was not scheduled to stop here but was to continue to Madison to meet the Wisconsin J-V's this afternoon.



MAT STAR — Ed Meske, (above) the Akron chiropractor, battles Ali Pasha on the semi-final wrestling bout tomorrow night at the armory. Don Eagle and Lord Blears meet in the headliner.

Barons In Win

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The rejuvenated Cleveland Barons opened their American Hockey league season at home last night by defeating the St. Louis Flyers, western division leaders last year, by a 5-1 count before a crowd of 6,421.

Hilborn Tosses 3rd 600 Score

Bob Hilborn tossed his third honor roll bowling score of the season last night as he led the Commercial B league with a 617 pin count. Hilborn, who also had a 600 Wednesday, put together games of 208-195-214 for the Yuncker's quintet.

Only other man to crash the select circle last night was Gene Luedy who made it for the first time with 608 for Fancee Brands. He had games of 181-202-225.

Other good scores in the league included: Phil Warga, Ingram-Martin, a 237 final game and 599 series; Hank Heiser, Mansfield Rug, 576; George Gump, Todd's Jewelers, 576; Ken Carlisle, Yunckers, 576; Carl Heilman, Schroer's, 569; Frank Kearn, Mansfield Rug, 557; Harold Selby, Liederkranz, 555; and Tony Augustine, Fancee Brands, 554. Todd's Jewelry ran up the best team score, a 2729.

★

Martha Dye of Mansfield Provident did the best bit of bowling in the Women's Commerical A league with 153-196-1 7—536.

Donna Schuster, with 154-152-211—517 for Ohio Sport Center, was the only other kegler over 500.

Others: Evelyn Marshman, Crescent Cafe, 492; Mary Thodosoff, PD's Bar, 488; Sue Humphrey, Sport Center, 486; Mary Marzetti, Safety Cabs, 484; Lena Aston, Safety, 479; and Ev Swank, Mansfield, Provident, 474.

★

B. Tipul led Tappan Stove bowlers with 181-188-151—520. A Dysart was runner-up with 511, and Stan Ginnever had 510. Other scores were: P Wolf 503; M. Keefer, 502; F Domer and D. Krumm, 497; and L. Lamberton, 494.

★

Women's Industrial leaguers were led by Evelyn Schindler who had a 152-179-159—490 pin count for 490. Janet Keeler had 462 for Lumbermans No. 1, M. Ginnever, 443 for Tappan No. 2; Betty Banks, Lumbermens, 457; and Opal Price, Lumbermens, 420.

★

Gene Rudolph led Barnes Manufacturing bowlers with 174-205-180—559. W. Watkins recorded 505; Nick Loris, 504; H. Warne and T. Glorioso, 479; J. Mintz, 468; G Hall, 452; and D. Porch, 449.

★

Marty Pahls paced the Amvets league with 562 while Doc Passerini had 536 and Stan Fox, 525. Peg Murphy led the Amvets Auxiliary with 476 and was followed by Dorothy Kaplan 442, Margie Fox, 435; and Betty Strong, 400.

Willard Seeking 6th Win In Row

WILLARD — The undefeated Willard Crimson Flashes will try for their sixth straight victory tonight when they go to Norwalk to clash with the Norwalk High Truckers and to revenge the 32-to-0 defeat handed them last fall.

Willard leads the Northern Ohio league with four victories. Bob Thornton, the Flashes' fullback, leads the Northern Ohio scoring with 57 points.

Rickey Trying Outfield Trade

He mentioned this item at a press conference yesterday. Earlier Rickey was closeted with Fred Saigh, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, in a 90-minute session.

It also was learned that Gene Hermanski, Brooklyn's lefthanded hitting outfielder, and George (Red) Munger, St Louis' righthanded pitcher, were among the names discussed.

Miami May Join Sport Conference

MIAMI — (UP) — The University of Miami today loomed as a new member of the 12-school Southeastern conference today, although several "ifs" and "buts" remained to be settled.

Miami's admission has been proposed by the University of Kentucky, and will be formally presented by the University of Florida. Sec commissioner Bernie Moore toured the university on an inspection trip yesterday.
